Normal reticence forbids that I disclose the name of the professional man whose mechanical bent seeks expression in investigation. He visited an associate who has a safe in his office. He wanted to hear the tumbler's tumble. They did and the safe locked securely, so securely that the mechanical genius was unable to open it, and the services of the expert locksmith amounted to five bucks. When my professional friend discovers the owner of that safe who knew the combination stood by and saw his colleague part with five dollars he may decide that the experience wasn't worth it.

Bill Hagethrop better get to his office earlier, or he is likely to find the front window lying on the floor. I tried to enter the legal newspaper emporium at 9 a. m. Saturday and the door refused to accommodate me. My expectations were a disappointment.

And then there was the fellow who proved to be a better singer than he thought he was and got a prize which the proprietor wanted back the next day.

And it came to pass that toothache is no respecter of persons. The exalted and the obscure come within its painful clasp. Fact is toothache has gained national prominence. President Roosevelt and Vice President Garner have been recent victims. An abscessed tooth can take the joy out of life, and dislocate your physiognomy and disposition at the same time. The best thing you can do for an abscessed tooth is to give it to the dentist.

And then there are occasions where you get to converse with some one who is able to interpret community problems, visualize objectives, make comparative values, and sort of drift along lines that are in agreement with your own. Maybe both are wrong, but they do furnish some comfort at the time, even if they are nullified later. Gee, wouldn't it be tough if no one agreed with you?

The erratic attitude of the stock market reminds me of the fellow who marched up the hill, and then marched right down again.

Letter carrier seeks athletic assistance. Wants to win some training. Needs a coach. Says he came near being run down crossing Broadway. Doesn't mind carrying the mail. Gets paid for that. But who's going to pay for his athletic development? Letter carrier crosses a lot of streets in a day. Every crossing is a potential risk. My friend seeks to prolong his life by taking physical culture. I hope the development will be so potent that he will be able to put an awning over each optic of the careless drivers.

Les Fountain was over from Long Beach last Saturday. He was lucky. Missed me. So he tells a friend to tell me that he is getting along all right. Now what's make out of that?

Fellow trying to get a financial slant on a prospective customer asked another what he was worth. "Well, if you want my opinion he isn't worth—" Just then a rumbling truck drowned out the vital part of the retort.

After observing for an indefinite number of years the display windows I have decided that decorators are a restless sort. They are constantly changing. Which reminds me of the old days when a merchant would put an advertisement in the paper and let it sit there for a year without changing. By comparison I thought how different. Now window decorators keep up with the times, adapt their displays to suit occasions, and present advance styles with such unusual artistry that many a hubby has had to let go of the week's pay check to satisfy the

City Traffic Too Hot for Coyote; Takes It on Lam

Horrified with the complications of modern city traffic and civilization in general, one lone coyote appearing in the neighborhood of Nineteenth and Main streets about 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon made a hurried exit from Santa Ana.

Only a few Santa Anans witnessed the unexpected appearance of the animal. Among them was Lee Hamilton, American Railway Express employee who was delivering a package to the home of Ernest Amling near Heliotrope and 19th streets.

"This was where I first saw him. Evidently he came out of a walnut grove," at 19th and Flower streets," Mr. Hamilton said. "I followed him in my truck for several blocks and he disappeared east on 19th street."

MAN KILLED BY OWN AUTO IN COLLISION

Failure to Observe "Stop" Sign Is Fatal

He apparently didn't see the stop sign!

So the body of D. P. Beaucher, 62, Anaheim real estate man, is lying in Brown and Wagner mortuary, where plans are being made for an inquest.

It was a spectacular accident that brought instant death to Beaucher Saturday afternoon. Three cars were involved in the wreck, but ironically Beaucher, when his own auto ran over his head, crushing his skull and dragging him several yards.

The elderly man was driving north on Wright street, approached Seventeenth street, and failed to make a boulevard stop, according to witnesses.

Two other cars were going east on Seventeenth street, believed they had the right of way, and barely slowed down.

When Beaucher started into the

NLRB WINS BUS ACTION

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The Labor Relations board won a supreme court review today in its effort to enforce an order directing the Pacific Greyhound Lines, Inc., to withdraw all recognition from a labor organization it was alleged to have formed and dominated.

A review recently was granted of similar litigation involving the Pennsylvania Greyhound Lines, Inc. The labor board lost both cases in lower courts.

In the Pacific Greyhound dispute, the board appealed from a decision by the ninth circuit court to appeals that the Wagner labor relations act did not authorize such action.

Other parts of the board's order—that the bus company cease from discouraging membership in the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers and refrain from "dominating or interfering with" any organization of its employees—were upheld by the circuit court and were not involved in the appeal.

After an investigation, the board found that the bus company had warned its employees not to join the brotherhood and had formed an employees organization named the "Drivers' Association, Pacific Greyhound Lines."

Strikers Leave Gen. Motors Plant

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP)—Strikers who had held the General Motors Fisher Body plant here since Wednesday evening marched out at 11:30 a. m. today, led by Homer Martin, international president.

Martin, who entered the plant at 10 a. m., said when he emerged that the strikers had voted unanimously to evacuate the plant.

He said the company would be notified at once that the men had left and that he would attempt to open negotiations on grievances which caused the strike.

'Bloodless' War Is Urged By Duke to Follow Paris Purge

PARIS. (AP)—In the midst of police efforts to crush an armed revolutionary organization, the Duke of Guise, pretender to the throne of France, issued a manifesto today announcing he had decided to "reconquer the throne of my fathers."

The duke's son, the Count of Paris, immediately denied his father's act had any connection with the Cagouards, or "Hooded Ones." He insisted it was a mere coincidence the manifesto was issued while the secret organization was being investigated.

Swiss police, however, thought differently. The count had been expected to issue his father's statement last night at a meeting of royalists at his villa at Versoix, Switzerland, but Swiss police banned the meeting and "invited" him to leave the country.

A dispatch from Geneva reported the count had returned there unexpectedly today.

Spokesmen for the count's Paris newspaper, the Courrier Royal, insisted the duke's use of the word "reconquer" meant only he planned to rally Frenchmen to his program and had in mind no military action.

FEW ROYALISTS

Political observers viewed the duke's challenge of changing France into a monarchy as "practically zero." The royalists throughout the country were believed to number less than 50,000.

The Surete Nationale, secret police, who already had arrested several royalists for participation in the national revolutionary committee had no comment on the manifesto. Almost all surete operatives in Paris and a large force in the province were working on the investigation.

A company of Mobile guardsmen marched into the ministry of the interior yesterday to reinforce the guard.

DUKE IN BELGIUM

The duke was in Belgium, where he is living in exile, as the 10,000 word manifesto was distributed in Paris.

The count left Versoix, Switzerland, late yesterday after Swiss federal police "invited" him and a group of followers to leave the country on the ground he was carrying on political activity.

His father's statement was in direct contrast to his last message to the nation when he told them, in February, 1933, "dictatorship under a monarchy was necessary. "Have the moral courage not to abdicate before present difficulties," today's manifesto appealed to Frenchmen. "Do not permit, in a moment of abandon, dictatorship of any kind to impose itself. . . .

'Cactus Jack' Can't Believe His Own Age

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Vice President Garner wanted to argue on his birthday anniversary today that he was 68 years old and not 69.

It was not until he was shown a copy of the "Biographical Director of the American Congress" and other material on Nov. 22, 1868 that he admitted he was wrong.

"By golly," he said, "I don't keep up with those things. Don't I have enough on my hands as it is?"

"Cactus Jack" describes himself as "a spit fire of the government," but one senator commented:

"He'll call the shots quicker in this special session of congress than any other man on Capitol Hill."

Garner and his wife, who is his secretary, arrive at their office promptly at 7:45 a. m. Mrs. Garner prepares luncheon for the two of them in an improvised kitchen in the vice presidential suite.

Garner is in excellent health.

JAPAN SEEKS CONTROL OF SETTLEMENT

Britain Opposes Plan For Shanghai Control

LONDON. (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden indicated in the house of commons today that Great Britain would not grant Japan's demand for virtual control of Shanghai's international settlement without the consent of the Chinese government.

Japan notified authorities of the settlement yesterday that she wanted control of Chinese maritime customs, the postal and telegraph administrations and courts.

It was understood the further right to march troops through the settlement would be demanded by Japan.

At the same time Geoffrey Shakespeare, secretary of the admiralty, denied that Vice Admiral Sir Charles Little, commander of British naval forces in the Far East, had congratulated Japanese Commander Gen. Iwane Matsui on his Shanghai victory.

JAPAN GIVES KAI-SHEK TO URGE SELF UP

SHANGHAI. (AP)—Japan urged Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek today to surrender.

A message was dropped to him by Japanese airmen making their first flight over Nanking since the government announced its transfer from the capital to Chungking, about 1000 miles farther inland.

No bombs were dropped—only the message urging cessation of hostilities. It was released from a plane flown by Lieutenant Mochimaru Hango, one of Japan's ace pilots.

Chinese pursuit planes attacked the Japanese fliers, nevertheless, engaging them in spectacular dog-fights over Nanking.

NEW AIR FIGHTERS

New Chinese fighting craft taking part resembled their Japanese foe more than the types of Chinese plane seen until now. They were so new apparently that puzzled ground defenses and airmen operators mistook them for Japanese. The danger signals waived long after the raiders had gone.

With 50 new fighting craft known to have been flown to China's interior from Russia, it was believed this was the debut of

COFFIN DEATH QUIZ OPENS

SEA ISLAND, Ga. (AP)—The death of Howard E. Coffin, textile operator and pioneer in the automobile industry, was the subject of an inquest today.

Coffin was found dead of a bullet wound in the bedroom of his winter home yesterday by J. D. Compton, general manager of the Sea Island company, who explained he called to discuss a deer hunt they had planned for today. A deer rifle lay nearby. A bullet had struck Coffin, chairman of the board of the Sea Island company, squarely in the face.

"It apparently was an accident which happened as Mr. Coffin prepared to clear or inspect his gun for our deer drive," Compton said.

Girl Writes Story of Life Behind Shutters

What does the world "look" like to those who can't see it? Lucille Osborne, blind and confined to a bed in a hospital ward, will try to tell us in a series of stories she will publish in The Journal, beginning tomorrow.

Day after day for nine years Lucille has heard life marching past—very quietly—but never has seen it.

Life marches quietly past Lucille because she lives in a hospital, where life—and sometimes death—walks softly so as not to disturb those rows of patients.

She never has seen it go by because Lucille is blind. Yet in nine years she has learned a lot about life.

Beginning tomorrow, Lucille will lead readers of The Journal into her twilight world, through a series of feature articles she will write from her bed in the tuberculosis ward, on the typewriter that only recently re-opened a doorway into the world for her.

Things are very different in Lucille's world — just how different we might never know, were it not for the stories she will write.

It was through the Santa Ana Rotary Club that she found her way back into a world she had created for herself, because after she had lost the machine on which she had conducted a large correspondence, and written little stories with which she made the long days pass more quickly, it was the Rotary club that heard of her loss and bought her another machine.

Today Lucille is talking to the world again, and the world to her, through her agile fingers, while she lies back on the heaped up hospital pillows behind her.

And tomorrow she will lead you with her into a world you never knew—that of a shut-in, and a blind, but cheerful one, at that.

STOCKS HIT NEW LOWS

NEW YORK. (AP)—A late selling wave gave impetus to a decline in stocks today, forcing numerous issues down for losses ranging to $6 or more.

Steels and motors led the retreat. U. S. Steel broke through $50 to a new low for the year after the American Iron & Steel institute had reported the industry this week had curtailed operations to 31 per cent of capacity, lowest since December, 1934, from 36.4 per cent last week. Since mid-September the operating rate has fallen steadily from around 80 per cent.

Birth and Death Ride the Winds In Same Plane

BRUSSELS. (AP)—Birth and death rode in the same airplane at Ostend last week, a Belgian inquiry into the disaster that killed 11 persons disclosed today.

It was because royalty was being born that royalty died in the shocking wreckage of a London-bound liner, Belgian officials told the newspaper Midi-Journal.

The Belgian inquiry revealed the plane's pilot had attempted to land because the Archduchess Hesse Bei Rhein, one of the passengers, was giving birth to a baby.

Heavy fog interrupted the attempted landing, causing the liner to crash and instantly kill all 11 of its occupants. The plane was carrying Grand Duke Donatus Von Hesse and members of his family to the London wedding of the grand duke's brother. Five members of the former German royal family were killed.

Officials learned the baby had been born aboard the plane when they found its tiny body in the wreckage.

CARNEGIE —AUTHOR OF— "HOW TO WIN FRIENDS AND INFLUENCE PEOPLE"

One day this week, I passed the spot in Greenwich Village, New York, where stood the saloon in which John Masefield once worked as a bartender. John Masefield is now poet laureate of England, but did that humble, ingenuous position handicap him in writing poetry? Not a bit of it, for success is the proof of one's ability to surmount obstacles, and John Masefield could learn more of life in that saloon, where he came face to face with men from all walks of life who were natural, than he could in the drawing room among acquaintances who seldom spoke their real thoughts.

Ignace Jan Paderewski suffered a handicap in his career, in that he had a defective memory and could not retain a long piece of music in his mind for 48 hours. He was not a genius, so he practiced from 12 to 15 hours every day to overcome this handicap—and now the world calls him a genius.

Nelson Eddy was not handicapped because he had to help

SNOW CLAIMS EIGHT LIVES

BOSTON. (AP)—Eight persons were dead today, victims of New England's first real snow storm of the season. More than a score suffered injuries in automobile crashes on ice-coated roads over the week-end.

From four to eight inches of snow fell in sections of western and northern New England while light flurries and rain in southern and central district, followed by freezing temperatures, glazed roads.

High tides flooded highways and causing damage to summer homes along some beaches from Hampton, N. H., to Plymouth.

FDR TO URGE BUILDING

WASHINGTON. (AP)—President Roosevelt, informed officials said today, may send to congress this week some suggestions for stimulating private building.

He is understood to have considered several proposals for handling this phase of his program to check the business recession.

One was reported to be authorization for loans from the Reconstruction Finance corporation to mortgage companies organized to furnish capital for large scale housing projects. The RFC would match dollar-for-dollar funds put up by private capital.

Another was an increase in the percentage of the cost of a small home which may be financed through a mortgage insured by the federal housing administration.

Advocates of this program contend many prospective home builders are deterred by lack of funds from making the 20 per cent down payment now required for FHA financing. They would increase to 30 per cent the amount which could be insured by the FHA.

A high government official said the President had indicated favor for the RFC proposal. There has been no report of his attitude toward FHA financing.

MISUSE OF PUBLIC FUNDS CHARGED

Demands Fees Be Returned by Dec. 5

Ouster proceedings against Sheriff Logan Jackson, County Treasurer T. E. Stephenson and Coroner Earl Abbey on grounds of misuse of public funds were threatened today by Supervisor N. E. West, as skirmishes over the county's ordinance burst into open warfare.

West said "unless they return fees collected illegally before Dec. 5" he would demand that the grand jury take steps to remove them from office.

OTHERS WARNED

Similar action may be started against others of the county's official family, the Laguerre supervisor intimated. He said his demands were backed by the opinions of four attorneys.

B. Z. McKinney, Santa Ana attorney and city attorney of San Clemente, heads West's brigade of legal talent.

RATTLE SKELTON

At the same time, West took occasion to rattle some bones in the county closet, as he recalled that "only two years ago a county official was removed from a public elective office after having failed to turn in moneys as provided by law." He referred to the trial and removal of former Recorder Justine Whitney.

West said today that the county will hold Auditor W. T. Lambert, long time political opponent of his, "directly responsible" for the approximate $8000 increase in salaries already paid out to county employees for services rendered during October.

PLAST AT LAMBERT

A majority of the board of supervisors, he claimed, has disagreed with District Attorney W. F. Menton's ruling that the new salary schedules, instead of starting with November 1, were retroactive to October 1.

STRIP ACT ENDS IN CRASH

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—A careening automobile crashed into a telephone pole early today, killing Emmett W. Peters, Burbank motorcar dealer, and seriously injuring Bubbles Rogers, blonde strip-tease dancer.

Miss Rogers was caught in the wreckage. Both legs were broken and her face was badly cut. A third occupant, George Felzian, 27, musician, was thrown clear and escaped with minor hurts.

The woman was entered at emergency hospital as Sylvia Seek, which Detective Lieutenant W. E. Huston later established was Miss Rogers' real-life name.

He said she was driving the car when it hit the pole after failing to complete a turn off Western avenue at 29th street.

Miss Rogers, after two years of marriage, was divorced last June by Cass Warner, manager of the Burlesque theater which featured her act. He testified he never watched his wife on the stage, but had a 10-year contract as her manager. She told him love and her career would not mix, his suit alleged.

COME OUT OF THE FOG

By BRADEN FINCH

Fog is thicker in Santa Ana these nights than WPA workers at a Democratic rally.

Which fact brings up the remark that our street department had a bright, very bright, idea some weeks ago in putting up fog-piercing sodium lamps at major intersections in the outskirts.

Why not finish the safety lighting job now and place the illumination in other spots where it is needed. Unless some precaution like this is taken, one of these murky nights a bunch of motorists are going to fold each other up like accordions right in the middle of the city.

CONGRESS LEADERS BATTLE TO END FILIBUSTER, START WORK

FARM BILL IS READY FOR SENATE

Granary and Crop Arguments to Start

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Congress was ready—almost to get down to work today on crop control legislation.

Both senate and house continued the same sort of wordy debate that produced no action during the first week of the special congressional session, but the senate had a farm bill to start on tomorrow.

A weary house sub-committee also wound up its discussions over an agriculture bill to establish an ever-normal granary and stabilize farm prices.

Majority Leader Rayburn (D., Tex.) said word from the committee was that the legislation would be ready for the house by tonight, "certainly tomorrow." He predicted debate would begin by the end of the week.

FDR'S COMMAND
The measure drafted by the senate agriculture committee had no revenue-raising provisions but committee members said it complied with President Roosevelt's command not to increase spending without compensating taxes.

Senator Pope (D., Ind.) said the final draft could hold costs within $500,000,000 already budgeted to the farm program. Some other committee members disputed this, predicting it would increase the federal outlay for agriculture by $150,000,000 to $300,000,000.

Pope explained the bill provides payments equal to or greater than those being made under the present soil conservation act.

EXPECT ACTION
Action by the farm committee was not the only sign the Democratic leadership planned to get congress to buckle down to the President's four point special program of legislation of agriculture, wages and hours, executive reorganization and regional planning.

Vice President Garner, Speaker Bankhead and Majority Leaders Barkley (D., Ky.) and Rayburn (D., Tex.) of the senate and house conferred with the President on speeding up legislative action.

Regional planning, an item that appeared lost in congressional confusion last week, appeared to have some chance of getting before the house before the short special meeting of congress ends.

Bring in your lantern, Diogenes. The honest man you have been looking for was in Santa Ana last Friday. He took lunch in a certain cafe and the cashier returned in change for a $20 bill five dollars too much. He discovered the overpayment and went back to return the money. The cashier insisted that he wait until the cash register receipts for the day had been checked before accepting the money, and inquired if it wasn't possible he had some change in his pocket at the time of making payment for the lunch. He said he had money in his pocket he would not have offered to pay for the meal with a $20 bill. It turned out that a check on the register proved the customer's contention. It is refreshing that in these days of "lack of faith" truth triumphs.

ANAHEIM MAN DIES IN CRASH

intersection, Henry C. Gudikant, 21-year-old sailor from San Pedro, was too close to stop. He bashed into the side of Beaugher's car, then careened into the rear of a car driven by Jesse Haddock, 28, 610 1/2 West Fourth street, Santa Ana.

The terrific impact sprung open the left front door of the Anaheim man's car, and he was hurled onto the pavement as the auto crashed over on top of him.

A passenger in Beaugher's car, Miss E. E. Redlick, 26, Hansen road, Anaheim, was injured in the accident, though not critically. Gudikant also was slightly hurt, as was Ruby Williams, 16, Long Beach, a passenger in his car.

Another week-end accident resulted in the arrest of Joe Castro, 26, Bell, on felony drunk driving charges.

A passenger in Beaugher's car, road and knocking over an orange tree, Castro proceeded down the highway near San Juan Capistrano and was charged with striking a car driven by Sherman Star, Hollywood, head-on. Miss Helen Smith, also of Hollywood, sustained cuts and bruises in the crash, and California highway patrolmen booked Castro on a charge of drunk driving resulting in an injury.

active and also affected the October salaries.

Blasting at Lambert for his stand in the matter, West pointed out that the auditor has disagreed with the district attorney in the past, and refused to follow Menton's legal lead in regard particularly to advertisements placed by the board during a former flood control campaign.

"ORDINANCE INVALID"
West said his action in seeking the advice of four separate attorneys came "as the direct result of the opinion given by Menton and repeated newspaper stories which have said that county officials who are supposed to turn in their fees and dues will defy the board of supervisors and retain their fees."

Opinions gathered by West, he claims, all agree that Menton's ruling (that the fee clause of the ordinance is invalid, and that it would be illegal for the officials to turn in their fees and then supplement a portion of them to supplement their present salaries) is contrary to the law.

"NO AUTHORITY"
McKinney ruled that Lambert's action in paying employees and officials an increased rate for services already rendered is in complete conflict with the state law. "In my opinion," he said, "the auditor has no authority to pay money of the county not authorized by law. In my judgment the payment for October on the salary schedule cannot be justified under the ordinance itself, or under the state constitution, and that the auditor is personally liable to the county for any funds paid out by him in violation of provisions of law, and that it is the duty of the board of supervisors to require a suit to be instituted in the name of the county to recover same." West claimed the county stood to lose $30,000 by Lambert's action, represented by fees and dues of elected officials and salaries paid out by the auditor.

FDR Postpones Georgia Trip

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Roosevelt, on the advice of his physician and dentist, canceled today his Thanksgiving trip to Warm Springs, Ga., but made plans to go there and to the Florida coast on a fishing trip when he regains his strength.

Stephen T. Early, a White House secretary, said the President probably would leave for Miami the latter part of this week, or early next, for four or five days of rest and then go to Warm Springs for a belated dinner with the infantile paralysis patients at the foundation there.

MUSIC ARTS FEES GONE

Six employees of the Santa Ana branch of the Institute of Musical Arts joined today with dozens of Santa Anans in demanding an investigation of the branch's operation, following "closing" of the school's office here over the week-end.

Lacked doors and bare offices instead of pay checks greeted the employees yesterday, they allege. Five dollar registration fees paid by many Santa Anans made interest in the complaint widespread.

The employees plan to demand an investigation by the state labor commission. They say they have not been paid for collecting the $5 fees and for other work at the offices, which were located at 405 West Fourth street.

The local branch of the institute had been operating for some time, the employees said today, but had been recently under direction of Jess Carney.

Mme. Budrow, prominent singer former an Orange county resident, was connected with the Los Angeles headquarters of the institute and came here weekly to give lessons, they said.

Yvonne Addis of Glendale, they said, is president of the institute. He will be contacted, they said, in an effort to secure payment of the salaries due at the local branch.

Instruments, furniture and fixtures all were missing from the headquarters today, the employees told police, and they were unable to locate Carney.

SHERIFF HITS 'DICK' RACKET

Marking time as he awaited an answer to his protest to the state license bureau that a Los Angeles detective agency was "high-pressure" Orange county poultry raisers, Sheriff Logan Jackson indicated today he would continue to press his fight against what he termed "unethical practices."

The sheriff admitted he had no grounds for criminal prosecution, but still hoped the state license board would take soda action.

Numerous complaints that the St. Darling detective agency had attempted to "high-pressure" ranchers into buying protection signs at prices ranging from $2 to $5 prompted Jackson to ask Walter Killam, head of the bureau under which agency is licensed, take steps to curb the detective's activities in this county.

No direct threats have been made, and the agency has not promised other protection than the sign itself might afford, Jackson indicated, but his "high-pressure" tactics, assertedly, have frightened many Orange county farmers.

"The agency has been conducting its business legally, but unethically," the sheriff charged.

Prominent Church Worker Passes

A prominent member of the local First Methodist Episcopal church for two score years, Mrs. Jessie Wealthy Raugh, 71, died at her home, 731 South Birch street, Sunday after an illness of several weeks.

Mrs. Raugh was active in Sunday school work at the church, and was also well known for her work with the W. C. T. U. here. She was a resident of Santa Ana for 41 years, and came here from Serena, Ill., her birthplace.

She is survived by her husband, Dr. J. M. Raugh; one sister, Mrs. Mabel Glasgow of Highland, Calif.; and one nephew, Clyde Glasgow of Redlands. Funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. Henry Irving Rasmus, jr., pastor of the local Methodist church, from the Winbinger chapel at 2 p. m. Wednesday. Cremation will follow at Fairhaven cemetery.

Aged Santa Anan Passes Away

A resident of Santa Ana for 23 years, Edwin Julius Benedict, 82, retired sheet metal worker, died at his home, 112 East Bishop street, Saturday morning after a brief illness.

Born in Illinois, Mr. Benedict moved to Santa Ana in 1914. While here, he was associated with the Knox and Stout Hardware company for some time, and was a member of the First Congregational church.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Mattie Rolling of Santa Ana and Mrs. Eva Johnson of Seattle, Wash.; one sister, Mrs. Nell Winslow; and one brother, George Benedict of Santa Ana. Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Tuesday from the Brown and Wagner Colonial chapel. The Rev. Perry F. FROZEN FRUIT TRIAL SET

Echoes of last summer's bitter court fight over frost-damaged oranges will rise tomorrow in Anaheim justice court, where Ed Mills, manager of the Anaheim Community Growers, will face criminal charges of attempting to ship frozen fruit.

Mills and the Western Fruit Growers are co-defendants in the criminal action, brought last spring after sub-freezing temperatures had damaged a large percentage of the orange crop.

Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs charges that Mills and the Western house attempted to pack and ship a car containing frozen oranges.

Tubbs and Mills were central figures in a court battle here last summer, in which Tubbs, sought to confiscate 928 packed boxes of oranges damaged by the frost. Tubbs won the battle when the suit was ended by stipulation, the defendants agreeing to send the fruit to by-products plants.

WINDSOR WINS LIBEL SUIT

LONDON, (AP)—Settlement of Duke of Windsor's libel suit against the publishers and author of "Coronation Commentary" for a "substantial sum" in damages and costs was announced today before Lord Chief Justice Hewart.

Sir William Jowitt, appearing for Windsor, announced that William Heinemann, Ltd., the publishers, and Geoffrey Dennis, author, would pay the "substantial sum."

He added that Windsor would contribute the damages to charities in which Edward, as king and Prince of Wales, had taken "a deep interest."

The book was withdrawn from sale and a letter of apology written last April. It dealt with the coronation and the duke's accession to the throne and referred to what it termed "muddling, fuddling and meddling" during his reign.

Granger Estate Totals $50,000

William D. Granger, 82-year-old Orange banker who died Nov. 10, left an estate which probably is worth considerably more than $50,000, it was revealed today.

His widow, Mrs. Ella P. Granger, filed in superior court a petition for probate of his will and another petition asking termination of joint tenancy in three lots in Orange and personal property.

Separate property was classed "in excess of $10,000," and joint tenancy property included in $17,000 in bank deposits, $15,000 in notes and investment certificates and the real estate, which was not appraised.

The will, dated April 27, 1925, leaves the estate to the widow with the provision that on her death it shall go to couple's children. Surviving children are Mrs. Henry Campbell of Orange and Earl C. Granger of San Francisco. Another son, Neil P. Granger, is deceased.

EX-FLAME OF DUCE BANNED

NEW YORK, (AP)—Stormy-eyed Magda De Fontanges, who shot a French ambassador she said was interfering in an affair between her and Benito Mussolini, was banned by police order today from appearing as an entertainer in a Broadway night club.

The order, issued by John J. Sullivan, second deputy police commissioner, came as Mrs. De Fontanges was fighting deportation from Ellis Island on charges of moral turpitude.

She had come here to take a $50 a week job in a night club (French casino) floor show. Sullivan, in a notice to the night club's owners and other cabaret proprietors, declared "no notorious woman can capitalize on her past in any night club or any place licensed by the police department."

California Gets Rose Bowl Game

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—The University of California's Golden Bears became the official representative of the west today for the New Year's day football game in the Rose Bowl.

The 10 member schools of the Pacific Coast conference did the obvious thing and selected Coach Leonard B. (Stub) Allison's undefeated squad by telegraphic vote to Dr. Hugh Willett, chairman of the conference directors. California will choose its eastern opponent.

SCION OF OLD FAMILY DIES

Ricardo O. Belty, who was a member of an old Spanish family, one of the first four to settle in Los Angeles, died yesterday in the Orange county hospital following an illness of a month. He was 70 years of age.

Up to the time of his fatal illness, Mr. Belty was active in the barber business in Santa Ana. He had lived in Orange county for many years, moving here from Los Angeles where he had been born and educated. He was a member of the Catholic church, and funeral services will be conducted from the St. Joseph's Catholic church at 1 p. m. Tuesday by the Rev. Father Francis O'Brien. Interment will follow in the family plot in Holy Sepulchre cemetery. Brown and Wagner will be in charge.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Clara Belty; three sons, Reggy Belty, Richard Belty, and Al Belty; two daughters, Frances Belty and Clara Belty; three brothers, John Belty, Richard Belty and Camillario Belty, all of Santa Ana.

WATERLOO PENSION

LONDON, (American Wire)—It's been 122 years since the Battle of Waterloo, but the widow of a British soldier who fought for Wellington is still drawing a pension—and she is only 75. Her husband joined the army in 1815 as a bugler. The pair were married when he was nearly 80 and she was 17.

LOWEST FOOD PRICES IN 3 YEARS, CLAIM

Dealers Point to Drop in Ten Staples

Food prices in Santa Ana are on the lull again. The cost of eating is lower than in the past three years.

Grocers, vegetable retailers and butchers today took an almost unanimous stand against President Roosevelt's contention of Saturday that the cost of living is rising too rapidly.

They pointed to declines during the past year of approximately 25 per cent in the average cost of fresh vegetables, declines of from 10 to 30 per cent in meat costs, and drops of approximately 10 per cent in staple food costs to support their statements.

DECREASES NOTED
A list of 10 standard items, including sugar, corn meal, flour, coffee, cocoa, soap, starch, beans and shortening, showed decreases of from 7 1/2 per cent to 15 per cent, throughout the larger downtown markets.

Butchers estimated costs of pork to have dropped 30 per cent, beef 10 to 20 per cent, veal about 25 per cent, with lamb holding its own. The tendency in beef, they said, is for the higher priced articles to drop, while the lower cuts, including boiling pieces and fore-quarter cuts, to rise somewhat.

VEGETABLES CHEAPER

Fresh vegetables are almost uniformly less expensive. Potatoes have dropped 50 to 60 per cent under a year ago, with bunch vegetables down 25 per cent, fruits, with the exception of oranges, about 20 per cent, and beans, cauliflower, spinach, and other staple vegetables off from 10 to 25 per cent.

Seasonal items are correspondingly lower. Turkeys will sell for from 29 to 31 cents this year. Cranberries are down 30 per cent. Sweet potatoes and vegetables for the holiday meal or less. Oranges and avocados, retailers admitted, are showing the effects of last year's freeze, and staying up in price.

FARM BUREAU GLOOMY

From the farm bureau and agricultural commissioner's office virtually the same reports were forthcoming, tinged with gloom for growers' outlooks during the ensuing year.

Banner crops are in prospect for virtually every one of the county's products, with correspondingly lower returns to producers.

How much of the decrease in prices could be attributed to a national business slump and the current stock market decline retailers were not prepared to state.

Boy Hitch Hikers Halted by Police

A five-day adventure ended abruptly Saturday when two young runaways who assertedly hitch-hiked all the way from their homes in Lewiston, Utah, landed in the detention home here while officers attempted to contact their parents.

The boys—Read Bright, 16, and Clyde Lewis, 15—were wandering aimlessly about Santa Ana after they failed to find a friend who they believed lived on West Bishop street.

Police arrested them on suspicion and learned they had left home last Tuesday.

3 DRUNK DRIVERS CHARGED

Drunk driving arrests in the Anaheim district landed three motorists in Orange county jail during the week-end.

Corey D. Wiens, 37, route 4 box 45, Anaheim, was arrested by Anaheim police and given a sentence of $100 or 50 days after pleading guilty to the charge of Anaheim city court.

Irvin B. Gregg, 41, Anaheim, received the same sentence, and both drivers were committed to jail in lieu of the fine.

California highway patrolmen later arrested a Sim M. Snyder, 53, Long Beach, on a drunk driving charge in Anaheim township.

FIREMEN SAVE HOME

Flames which started in a defective fireplace caused $25 damage at James R. Leonard's home, 610 West Sixth street, Saturday night. The blaze was extinguished a few minutes after the fire was reported at 10:20 p. m.

Funeral services will be held from the Rev. Henry Irving Rasmus, Jr., pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating. Cremation at Fairhaven cemetery.

BENEDICT—Edwin Julius Benedict, 82, died in Santa Ana Nov. 20. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Mattie Rolling of Santa Ana and Mrs. Eva Johnson of Seattle, Wash.; and a son, Mrs. Nell Winslow, and one brother, George Benedict of Santa Ana. What . . . No Parachute?

Not only a woman's prerogative, but also a horse's, is change of mind, which placed Miss Margaret Evans in this most unadmirable posture. She is shown here a split second after her mount, Blue, decided not to make the jump in the National Capital Parks' horse show. Uninjured, Miss Evans placed third in her division.

reinforcements for China's shattered air forces.

The high speed newcomers, some quarters thought, were only part of a fleet of replacements and might indicate that China was preparing to challenge Japan's supremacy of the air. The populace, which had expected again to be bombed, appeared heartened.

URGENT SURRENDER
The mysterious message "advised" Chiang to end China's resistance and to surrender himself to the Japanese. A Japanese spokesman acknowledged that a "personal message" had been dropped at Nanking but would not disclose its text.

Although the Japanese sought to cloak the maneuver in secrecy, foreign observers regarded it as an effort to win a bloodless capitulation of the evacuated capital and the generalissimo's surrender.

Japanese land and air forces began a concerted drive against the entrenched Chinese on a line north from Wushu to Kiangnan, on the Yangtze river. They were aided by fine weather after a week of rain.

Wushu, at the south end of the line west of Shanghai, controls important communication and supply lines on the Shanghai-Nanking railroad and China's ancient grand canal.

Japanese declared the drive would bring their army to the gates of Nanking, China's evacuated capital, before the end of the week.

Dispatches from Peiping said Japanese forces in North China were preparing to cross the Yellow river at several points to attack Tsinanfu, capital of Shantung province, the only North China capital still unconquered by the Japanese.

CONTROL SHANGHAI
Force was threatened to back Japan's strong demands for back to back complete control of Shanghai, including Chinese courts, maritime customs, mails and telegraphs. Japanese warned officials of the international settlement and the French concession Japan might use her armed strength if her demands were not met.

Some quarters understood the Japanese might demand the right to march troops through foreign-held sections of Shanghai, close Chinese banks and banish 600 prominent Chinese residents.

The Japanese navy seized all customs vessels in Shanghai harbor and the Japanese military attaché declared his government reserved the right to suppress anti-Japanism through military action if efforts by settlement authorities should fail.

After referring to France's internal economic and political troubles and warning of dangers in Europe and the Far East, the pretender's statement condemned communism, fascism and the French parliamentary system. It said the only solution was a monarchy, under which the government would be decentralized and many powers would be returned to the provinces. It advocated industrial organizations composed of employers and workers.

Officials of the "Courrier Royal," of which the Count of Paris is editor-in-chief, said the statement was signed "Jean, Duc de Guise." Copies distributed in Paris, however, were not signed. The bearded, six-foot duke timed his manifesto to reach Paris by the excitement aroused by the police drive against a secret rightist revolutionary organization. Several suspects have been identified as royalist sympathizers.

BOYS' CHOIR OPENS MUSIC ARTS SERIES

Famed throughout the musical world of Europe and America for their bell-like voices, the historically-important Vienna Choir Boys will appear in concert of religious and secular music here tomorrow as an outstanding opening presentation for this year's Artists' Concert series sponsored by the local Musical Arts society.

For centuries the group has been in existence, singing for court and cathedral performances in Europe. Only recently has the choir yielded to universality demand and made public appearances.

Santa Ana is fortunate not only in having the regular scheduled appearance at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium, but a special matinee at 1:30 p. m. for students and teachers. Reduced prices will be given parents who accompany students.

Local musicians who have expended great effort to secure the Vienna Choir Boys through the Behrmer-Wilson agency, include Clarence Gustlin, general chairman, and Mary Batten Steffensen, Mabel Seed Spizy, Holly Lash Visel, Mrs. F. E. Coulter, Mrs. Emil Wagner, and Miss Ruth Armstrong.

New Haven: Clint Frank gallops to four touchdowns as Yale amblers crushing 26-0 defeat to Princeton in the mud.

Red Cross Piles Up Large Increase in Member Drive

The most successful Red Cross drive in years.

That was the word from headquarters today, as work was begun on tabulation of returns from the southern county enrollment campaign.

Santa Ana, roll-call Chairman Wayne Harrison announced, will exceed its quota by more than 500—an increase of 800 over last year. Only Garden Grove, Brea and Los Alamitos is showing a drop from last year, Harrison said, every other community reporting in over its quota.

Irvine, Laguna Beach and San Juan Capistrano, in the order named, reported their records reached and passed in the opening days of the campaign. San Clemente doubled its memberships.

Seal Beach, Sunset Beach, Anaheim Landing and Surfside colony are expected to reach their quotas today. Huntington Beach, Talbert, Oceanview and Midway City were expected to top the mark set for them. Costa Mesa, Harrison said, has reported the finest enrollment ever recorded there. Newport and Balboa were expected to report in "over the top" today.

Committee chairmen in charge of the work included: Santa Ana—Residential, Mrs. Ray Adkinson, Mrs. Lyle Anderson, Mrs. LeRoy Burns, Mrs. Kenneth T. Connor, Mrs. Lynn Crawford, Mrs. C. V. Davis, Mrs. Bob Fernandez, Mrs. Edward Hall, Mrs. Donald Harwood, Mrs. Frank Harwood, Miss Reva Hawkins, Mrs. Floyd Howard, Mrs. Oliver Lindemeyer, Mrs. Crawford Nalle, Mrs. B. T. Shifflett, Mrs. A. P. Trawick, Mrs. Franklin West, Mrs. Henry Williams and Mrs. E. R. Lepper.

Don Jerome headed the business section drive, assisted by Lester Tubbs, Harry Hanson, LeRoy Burns and Rodney Bacon as division chairmen.

Other chairmen were William Jeffrey, Irvine; Mrs. Harvey Martin, Laguna Beach; G. E. Evans, San Juan Capistrano; Mrs. F. S. Neddermeyer, San Clemente; Mrs. Mary Ekbert, Seal Beach area; Del Barry, Huntington Beach and vicinity; Mrs. Lucille Pinkley, Costa Mesa; Thomas E. Bouchee, Newport Beach; H. A. Lake, Garden Grove.

BOOKED ON CHECK CHARGE

Charged with issuing a fraudulent $17.36 bank check to Harry Alperson, of Santa Ana, two months ago, Vernon D. Dickard, 47, 1700 West Commonwealth street, Fullerton, was booked on a felony warrant in the Orange county jail. Bail was tentatively set at $10,000 by Justice of the Peace Kenneth E. Morrison.

NEW LIQUOR PERMIT LAW ADVOCATED

More Local Option Urged by Committee

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A resolution designed to make local option more effective in the granting of liquor licenses has been approved by the state senate liquor committee.

The resolution, proposed by Senator Ralph E. Swing of San Bernardino county, urged the board of equalization to refuse to grant a license to anybody unless a hearing is conducted by city or county authorities and certification made that conditions warrant it.

Swing said 69,000 licenses had been granted. Senator Andrew Schottky of Merced said a study he made disclosed more liquor licenses had been issued in California on a population basis than any state in the country.

Schottky said such a condition was bad for the people and bad for the liquor industry.

Swing said the equalization board had been "running wild" in issuing licenses. He said most licenses were for beer and wine, but that many persons holding such licenses were not confining their sales to beer and wine.

Prison Weather Brings Change For Robber

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—All the weather in California apparently is not "unusual."

Percy Dyer, 31, who said he had lived all his life in Stockton believes there is a marked difference between the weather at Folsom prison and San Quentin penitentiary.

Because of this difference he asked Superior Judge Lyle T. Jacks to sentence him to San Quentin after he was convicted of robbery of a theater.

"Your honor, I have lived all my life in Stockton," Dyer told the court, "and could not stand the weather in Folsom. Please send me to San Quentin."

Judge Jacks complied with the request in specifying he should reside there from five years to life, but stated the time would be spent at Folsom if Dyer did not behave himself at San Quentin.

The request for San Quentin confinement was made by Dyer after Judge Jacks had sentenced him to Folsom.

'Cops or Corpses' On Highway Is Taxpayer Plea

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Declaring New Jersey must choose between "cops or corpses for our highways," a report was submitted to the State League of Municipalities today condemning the practice of diverting gasoline tax receipts from highway uses to relief purposes.

The report, drawn up by the league's committee on safety, charged lack of money to pay the salaries of policemen and install safety devices was "fundamentally the cause of the mounting deaths and injuries in recent years."

Currents Peril Yacht Harbor

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ocean currents diverted by construction of the Santa Monica yacht harbor breakwater are ripping out sands of the beach at Venice and The Strand is in danger of being entirely destroyed, City Playground Superintendent George Hjelte reported today to the playground commission.

He requested that the city engineer study the situation and recommend means of halting the erosion. The commission accordingly asked Engineer Lloyd Aldrich to comply.

Postmen Will Ring At Trailerites' Door

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—When a trailer parks this season at the Sarasota tourist park, winter headquarters of the Tin Can Tourists of the World, he will have a regular street address.

If he moves, he will receive another address, under newly-enacted regulations.

The rules also specify that each house on wheels must be equipped with a mail box. A postman will make a daily delivery.

Heretofore the trailer tourist received his mail at the postoffice, general delivery.

The Bride Came In Glass-Bottom Boat

SILVER SPRINGS, Fla. (AP)—Vari-colored fish were among the guests at a wedding here recently.

Edwin Boyd, 18, of Orlando, married Miss Letha Pehlan, 16, of Umatilla, in a glass-bottomed boat while their friends looked on and fish watched from the waters below.

... Some are meditative as is Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley upon whose shoulders has fallen the mantle of the late Joe Robinson. To him falls the task of driving through a program which includes easing tax burdens on business and providing federal crop control.

... And some are skeptical as is Utah's Senator William H. King, who announced before start of the extraordinary session that he might feel obliged to use his influence as a check upon the administration. Last spring he was one of the leading foes of supreme court revision.

COURT HEARS OF M'LAGLEN THREAT TALE

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Philip M. Chancellor, photographer and heir to a watchmaking fortune, testified here that Leopold McLaglen threatened to implicate him in a burglary unless he gave him $20,000.

McLaglen, 50, brother of Victor McLaglen, film star, appeared for preliminary hearing on charges of attempted extortion, bribing a witness, preparing false evidence and soliciting the commission of a crime.

The defendant is accused of trying to extort $20,000 from Chancellor after he was discharged from his employ last Sept. 3.

Chancellor testified that McLaglen, who had worked for him as an athletic instructor and research assistant, testified at being discharged on the ground that Chancellor was obligated to him.

"Later," the witness said, "he told me I was responsible for burglaries and felonies he had committed without my knowledge and showed me a photograph he had taken of certain pass keys I had loaned him."

McLaglen has declared that the charges are "a frameup."

ADVOCATES TAX SLASH IN STATE

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Slashes in both the high bracket rates of the state personal income tax and the state retail sales tax have been advocated here by Chairman Alfred W. Robertson of the assembly interim committee on revenue and taxation.

The Santa Barbara county assemblyman said he is calling a meeting of his committee for December 3 in Santa Barbara, probably for consideration of the tax reductions he has in mind.

Robertson had a bill in the last assembly to cut income tax rates in the high brackets but it was defeated. The assembly passed several sales tax reduction and exemption measures, the senate later turning down all the important ones.

"Business has got to make a comeback," said Robertson today, "and our present tax levies are too heavy."

"Deposits in our banks are twice as great today as they were in 1929. Interest rates to the borrower are the cheapest in the history of the state. We've got every basis for good business, and yet people leave their money in the banks and won't invest."

"Lack of confidence is the only reason I can see why business isn't back where it ought to be. We've got to create confidence by giving business a better chance, and one way to do it is to cut taxes."

Washing-Machine Car Saves Gas

FINDLAY, O. (AP)—Seventy miles on a gallon of gasoline.

That is the regular mileage John Ewing, youthful automobile builder of Pandora, claims for his special washing-machine-motor-propelled car. The machine is eight feet long and will carry only one passenger, the driver.

It travels on pneumatic tires at a speed of 20 to 25 miles per hour.

Some Dreams Protect —Others Warn

It's Healthful to Dream No wonder Bill looks disgruntled. In his dream he was already at the office.

Now the alarm clock tells him he's still faced with the bother of dressing and hurrying down town.

Dreams like Bill's are "protective" dreams. They guard your rest by convincing your unconscious mind that you aren't oversleeping, that the day's work is already under way.

"Wish fulfillment" dreams are often protective, too. They give you a chance in sleep to work off grudges or satisfy fantastic desires without behaving disagreeably or foolishly in real life.

Be glad you dream. Even exhausting dreams—such as reliving trying experiences—or terrifying ones—like leaping from a high building—are valuable.

When they recur persistently, they are danger signals from your subconscious mind, warning you to solve personality problems before they become too much for you.

Understand your dreams. Read in our 32-page booklet what a famous psychologist says about dreams and their importance in a happy well-balanced life.

Send 10 cents for your copy of The Meaning of Dreams to The Santa Ana Journal, Home Service, 117 East Fifth Street, Santa Ana, Calif. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

RETAIL TRADE GAINS OVER COUNTRY

NEW YORK. (AP)—Retail trade for the country as a whole last week edged one to three per cent above last week, but clearance sales and early Christmas shoppers were responsible for the betterment, Dun & Bradstreet reported. In many centers, volume dipped. "Rising unemployment and restricted consumer buying" coupled with "spread of uncertainty" regarding the industrial outlook, crowded briskness from most trade channels, the credit agency said. Despite a duller pace, retail sales for the country held 3 to 12 per cent above the corresponding period a year ago. "Most of the principal wholesale markets recorded fewer orders than during the week preceding, although it was common knowledge that many stores were in need of a number of items to freshen stocks," Dun and Bradstreet added. "Retail inventories in some sections of the country have been worked lower than would be safe for any abrupt upturn in consumption. Merchants have confined their coverings to urgent necessities, contending that prompt deliveries and current prices will be available for at least several months. . . . "Buyers' orders declined for the week, reducing to 5 to 10 per cent the gain over wholesale volume for the 1936 period."

CIGARET CAUSE OF BOAT FIRE

SAN PEDRO. (AP)—A carelessly dropped cigarette at a boat launching ceremony was blamed today by investigators for a $25,000 fire at the Al Larson Boat shop. Joseph Gentry, of the fire department arson squad, said the cigarette fell into a sawdust pile beneath the ways Saturday and started a smoldering fire which flared up suddenly early Sunday. Adjoining buildings and several hundred fishing boats at Terminal Island were menaced by the flames. Two harbor fire boats and four land fire fighting companies were brought into action. The launching Saturday sent a $35,000 fishing boat, the G. Marconi, into the water.

Fish Rated as Poorest Pets By Psychologist

NEW YORK. (AP)—If you're bottled up emotionally, buy a pet—anything but a fish—Dr. A. A. Brill, Columbia university psychologist, advised today. "Fish," he said, "are too remote, too far away. It takes a long time to train them to come to you." Dogs provide the best "emotional transfer," Dr. Brill added, because they are closest to human beings. Birds make the next best pets, he said.

Colorado State Alumni Meet

Dr. John Brown Mason, social science instructor at Santa Ana Junior college, was the principal speaker at the Southern California meeting of alumni of the Colorado State College of Education held in Los Angeles Saturday. The meeting was conducted at the Women's University club where alumni and friends of the college attended. Dr. Mason was accompanied by Mrs. Mason. Miss E. P. Nicholson, Lathrop Junior High school teacher, also was present at the meeting. She is secretary for the alumni association of Southern California. Dr. Mason was head of the social science department at the Colorado Women's college before joining the faculty at the jays.

Girls to Study Machine Guns

CONSTANTINOPLE. (American Wire)—Announcement that both girls and boys in intermediate and high schools will be instructed in military science has aroused little notice here, the process of equalizing the sexes being so accepted. Girls will be trained in the use of machine guns, the study of shells and artillery, strategy and tactics.

LUXURY LINERS QUIT JAN. 6

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Suspension by the Grace line of fast inter-coastal service, due to loss of mail subsidies and increased expenses, was set today for the first week in January by Pacific coast officials of the line. Fred L. Doelker, Pacific coast manager, said the final sailing of a Grace liner from San Francisco for the east coast would be on Jan. 6, when the Santa Elena leaves. The Santa Elena will sail the following day from Los Angeles. Grace and Panama Pacific line officials told California business and civic leaders at a public hearing in San Francisco more than a week ago that the lines could not continue intercoastal operations.

Thanksgiving Talk At Kiwanis

"Our American Thanksgiving Tradition" will be the topic of the Rev. Harry Owings' address before members of the Kiwanis club at their Thanksgiving meeting this week. The Rev. Mr. Owings is pastor of the First Baptist church. Dr. J. E. Paul will be speaker of the day. Mr. Paul has arranged, through the Kiwanis club caterers, to set before the members a turkey dinner. Newest member in the organization is W. C. Pearle, who was welcomed into the club last week. Preparations are being put under way to stage the annual installation party some time during the middle of December.

Plants Grown On Glass Sheets

WASHINGTON, D. C. (American Wire)—Growing plants on sheets of glass cloth woven out of glass fiber will lead to new developments in plant knowledge by permitting close study of roots, in the opinion of Prof. M. A. Raines of Howard university, who is conducting such an experiment. He plants seeds on the top edges of sloping sheets of glass, backed by an absorbent material furnishing water and fertilizer salts.

MANILA STORM TOTAL JUMPS

MANILA. (AP)—Discovery today of 49 bodies boosted the known death toll of last week's typhoon to 219. Officials said the dead count probably would reach 300. Sixty-four persons were listed officially as missing. Whereabouts of other scores was unknown and 170,000 were homeless. The presidential yacht Casiana reached Manila Bay today with 12 survivors of the foundered sailing ship Don Salomon. Panitan Town officials reported every one of the community's 1000 dwellings was razed by the typhoon. The municipal building alone withstood the blast. President Manuel Quezon, from a sick bed, ordered 80,000 pesos (about $30,000) sent to three hard hit Visayan provinces for relief.

Versailles Treaty Cause of Suit

ST. HYACINTHE, Quebec, Canada. (American Wire)—Ninon Guka is suing the Canadian government because Rumania got a slice of Austria after the war. He was operating a $10,000 farm near here when the war began. He was arrested as an alien and deported. After the war he found himself on the allies' side because his native province had become Rumanian territory.

WARN OF L. A. LANDSLIDE

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—New, deep fissures appeared today on the crest of Elysian park's "moving mountain." The 500,000 tons of three-crowned earth, which form a 400-foot escarpment on the edge of Riverside drive, have inched downward and northward since Oct. 28. "Something will have to give soon if this slippage continues," said City Engineer R. T. Greene. If and when the "moving mountain" gives notice of sliding down upon Riverside drive and the Los Angeles river bed, a powerful electric siren will warn the handful of residents in the danger zone.

Police Force Rich Recluse Into Hospital

CINCINNATI. (AP)—Forced to a hospital by police for treatment for pneumonia, William P. Devou, 83, millionaire recluse, was reported "improved" today by his physician, Dr. J. T. Clear. Police broke into Devou's squalid office-home Wednesday and took him to a hospital after acquaintances notified them the man had not been seen since the day before. Of small, wiry physique, Devou lived in an old store room at the rear of a house in midtown, occupied for the most part by tenants. He was reported a year or so ago to have displayed a ledger showing that tenants owed him $500,000 in back rent, and for years he had been known here for contributions to charity.

Flames Roar Over Ruined Chapei

To make a fiery hell on earth bombs fell from warplanes over Shanghai. Here is a section of smoldering ruins, all that remained of Chapei, once teeming with native families, who fled before advancing troops. It was in this region that the "Doomed Battalion" made its courageous stand against the Japanese.

OPENS CIVIL SERVICE FIGHT

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—E. H. Christian, former president of the state personnel board, has renewed his attack on the Merriam administration in relation to filling state civil service positions. Christian charged today that Lawrence Gross, who was failed by an oral examination board in a test for state narcotic inspector was discriminated against by the board because he campaigned for former Governor C. C. Young when he was candidate for the republican nomination in opposition to Governor Merriam in 1934.

State Director of Institutions Harry Lutgens, who unsuccessfully opposed Christian's motion to raise Gross' oral mark, denied Gross' political activity was responsible for the oral board's decision. He said the oral board received information that Gross had a poor record while previously engaged in law enforcement work.

The personnel board also overrode oral examining boards and raised the grades of Joseph Vanham, Ralph Orr and Milton G. O'Brien to the marks which they received in written tests for state traffic officers. A passing grade was denied Joseph W. Williams, who received 91.78 per cent on the written test for supervising liquor control officer, grade one, on the ground he had not demonstrated supervisory ability.

German Finance Forum Subject

A forum on the "Financial History of Germany for the Past 15 Years" will be conducted by Dr. John Brown Mason, of Santa Ana Junior college at the Rossmore cafeteria, Tuesday, Nov. 23, at 6:30 p. m. under the auspices of the Orange County Chapter of the American Institute of Banking. This is one of a monthly series under the leadership of Frank Nusslein, of the Orange Savings bank. Dinner will be served preceding the meeting.

Cure for 'Washboard Chest' Told by Health Expert

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—America is a land of beautiful, but flat-chested women and something should be done about it, Jim Davies, physical culture expert, declared today. Davies, masseur to film stars, said that 90 per cent of the women who write to him for beauty advice ask: "How can I develop my bust?"

The query, he said, has been even more common since he wrote a magazine article explaining how Carole Lombard keeps her figure. Most women, the questions show, will be perfectly satisfied to look like Miss Lombard.

For that great and common evil, the "washboard chest," Davies has a simple remedy. Listen girls: "Place the tips of the fingers together, as though you were wrapping the fingers around a bill," he said. "Then extend the hands in front of you, on a level with the chest and with the elbows slightly bent."

"With the hands in this position, press the tips of the fingers together, lightly. The pressure should be equal on all fingertips Press and relax without permitting the fingers to separate. Repeat this maneuver at the rate of about twice a second."

This should be done twice daily, five minutes at a time. Mix a little swimming with it. "Then watch the unused, underdeveloped chest muscles jump into life," said Davies.

Santa Anita's fourth winter racing season is shaping up big for its opening on Christmas day.

Daily arrivals and stall reservations are evidence that the leading stables, horses and jockeys will be on hand.

Extension of the reinforced concrete and steel covered grandstand for the length of the home stretch to furnish seats for 20,000 is just about completed to finish the last of the year's major improvements. It will present Santa Anita park as a magnificent and complete racing plant, with the accommodations and facilities more than doubled.

Relative to the increased attendance this season is that membership in the Los Angeles Turf club by invitation has almost filled the roster, limited to 500, and that practically all the new boxes have been subscribed for.

The outstanding fields for the world's richest stakes—the $100,000 added Santa Anita handicap on Saturday, March 5, and $50,000 added Santa Anita derby on Washington's birthday—will be determined on December 1 when the training hours of the year close.

Among the top nominees expected for the handicap are biscuit, War Admiral, Hebe, Pom-pom, Rosemont, American Pharoah, Top Gun, Ruffian, Pegasus, Eagle, Pan, Indian Brood, Cascabello Sahri II, Shadow, Gosum, Goldeneye practically every notable hand horse in training.

Strike candidates are even more numerous, including Mountain Ridge and King's Heir, ran one-two in the Kentucky Jockey club stakes; Can't V. Teddy's Comet, Rocco and Strike.

Brewster Broadwell, r tackle, suffered a knee in, which may put him out for season. Kenny Washington, U L. A.'s chief scoring threat, complained of a bruised back; V Schell, fullback, limped with a bruised leg and Hal Hirschbuhl,

NEW YORK. (AP)—Harvard men in New York who couldn't make the big game celebrated the smashing victory over Yale by hiring a band to parade in front of the Yale club playing "Our Director" and other Crimson favorites. . . . Standing in the rain on the other side of the street, the Harvard guys got a big kick out of watching the old and young Blues hurrying to close the windows. . . . Best sports cartoon of the week was Willard Mullins' in the World-Telegram, showing Babe Ruth filling out an unemployment card. . . . John Montague isn't exactly in the chips right now but he turned down a check for $200 for expenses in his charity match for New York's kids.

Plenty of football upsets Saturday. . . . Colgate licking Syracuse made this column look good. . . . But what about Texas Christian setting Rice down? . . . We picked Purdue over Indiana in the pool, but didn't have the nerve to do it in print. Stanford is the team that really let us down. . . . We thought it had a real chance to upset California despite what Slip Madigan said. . . . It'll be California in the Rose Bowl and they'll pick Pitt, if Pitt disposes of Duke Saturday. . . . Somebody ought to make that "Hooks" Mylin down at Lafayette a vaudeville offer. . . . Boy, he rates it.

"Dutch" Clark of the Detroit Lions says he always figures on three sets of guards when his team goes against Bronko Nagurski. . . . Sam Chapman does not get many rave notices in the papers, but coasters who know say he is the chap who really makes California's powerhouse click. . . . Rogers Hornsby will go to the Milwaukee baseball meeting looking for a manager's job in the minor leagues. . . . When Mrs. Mel Hein, wife of the star center of the New York Giants, went to a dancing academy to learn the big apple, she found her partner and instructor was Count Woronoff of the South Russia Woronoffs. . . . What we'd like to see is an over-the-weight bout between Henry Armstrong and Petey Sarron.

Out at the University of South Dakota they don't know whether to beam or look sheepish over the success of Leonard (Stub) Allison.

COAST'S NEW CLUB PICKS MANAGER

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—Wade Killefer, former Pacific Coast league and major league baseball player, has resigned as manager of the Indianapolis club of the American Association to become manager and business director of the Hollywood team.

Killefer managed the Los Angeles team for several years in the early 20's, resigning to become manager of the Seattle club. Killefer was followed here by Marty Krug.

Wade's brother, Bill Killefer, is manager of the Sacramento club, so the 1938 season, marking the inaugural of a Hollywood club playing for the first time in the Pacific Coast league in a Hollywood park, will mark also the first time two brothers have been rival managers in the league.

Wade, an outfielder, was a player with the Los Angeles club many years ago and was graduated into major league company. He played with the Cleveland and Washington clubs of the American league. Bill Killefer, a catcher, was with the Chicago Cubs and was a member of the famous battery, Grover Cleveland Alexander and Killefer.

Wade will have complete charge of the Hollywood club in efforts of its owners to make it a flag contender. Not only will he have charge of the team on the field, but he will have the final say on the purchase, development and trading of players.

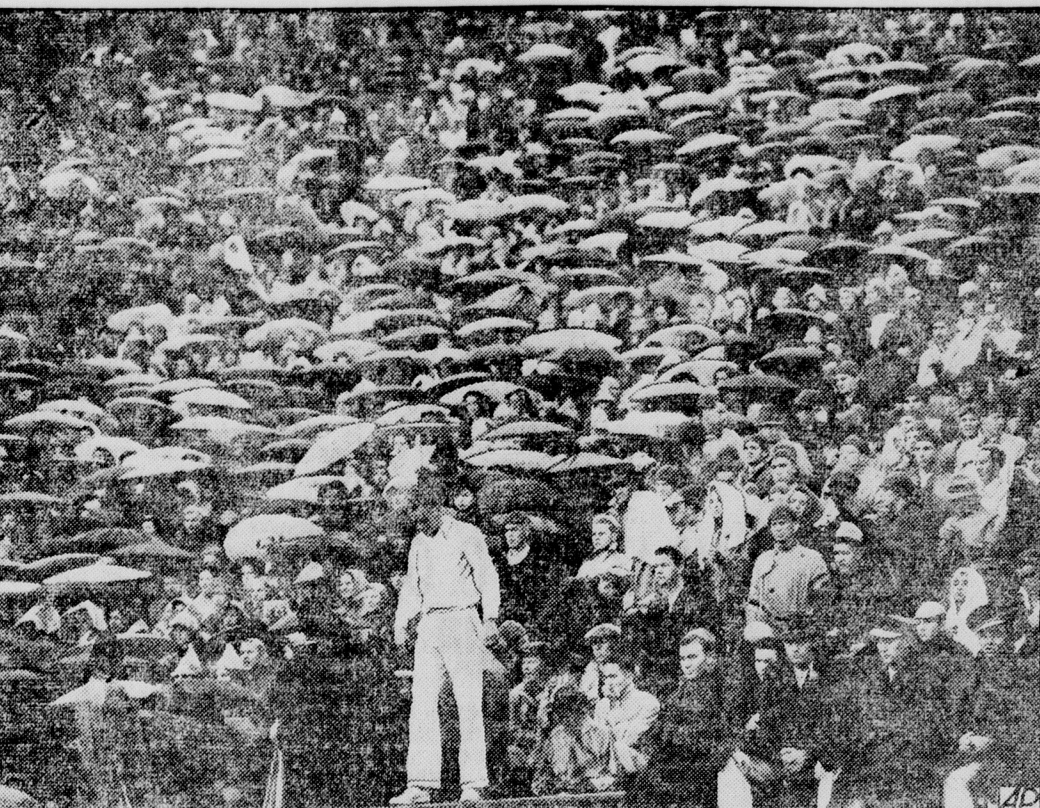

Says Pigs Easiest Animals to Train

LONDON. (American Wire)—The easiest animals to train are pigs, in the opinion of Philip Meriton, who is in the business of furnishing all kinds of animals to the British moving picture industry. "Hares are quite good for tricks," he declared in an interview. "One I have will throw a cabbage over his head and then wink at me. The most expensive animals are sheep. A flock costs a lot of money."

Most temperamental of animal stars are elephants, in his experience. In a film in which Lillian Harvey was starring one he supplied took a dislike to her. It would furtively gather up all the sawdust, etc., from the floor, suddenly blow it all over her just as things were going well. Several expensive frocks were so ruined.

son's California Bears. . . . You see, South Dakota started Allison on his way to fame back in 1923 with a pat on the back (shoe to pants) after his teams won only 10 major games in five seasons. . . . Stub fooled 'em by skidding up instead of down.

Brave Rain to Witness California's 'Big-Game' Win

Eighty-nine thousand spectators crowded the Stanford stadium to witness the "big game" between Stanford and California. Above is the "umbrella forest" view of the stands, as the fans watched the Bears drive to a 13 to 0 win over Stanford to become the Pacific Coast conference's unbeaten champion.

Most Valuable

A high one was caught by 31-year-old Charley Gehring when the Detroit Tiger ace received the American league "most valuable player" award.

U. S. INCOME PASSES TWO BILLION MARK

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The treasury reported today its income for the fiscal year which began July 1 passed the $2,000,000,000 mark Nov. 1.

On that date $2,007,393,652 of the $6,650,410,000 receipts estimated by President Roosevelt for the complete fiscal year had been collected.

Expenditures by Nov. 1 amounted to $2,624,336,822 of the $7,345,655,000 estimated for the year by the President. The first of the month also saw the public debt figure above $37,000,000,000 for the first time since the treasury released $300,000,000 of inactive gold in mid-September.

The debt stood at $37,009,026,553, or $110,000,000 below the mark established just before the gold was released from an inactive fund into which all foreign gold coming into the United States has been placed since last December to prevent it from inflating the American credit base. Inactive gold is paid for with borrowed money and when it is released the debt tends to fall.

Faces Trojans

Right End Chuck Sweeney, above, will be in the Notre Dame lineup that faces the U. S. C. Trojans in South Bend Saturday. It was Sweeney who broke through tough lines to send Navy and Minnesota to defeat.

'King of Dead' Faces Jail Term

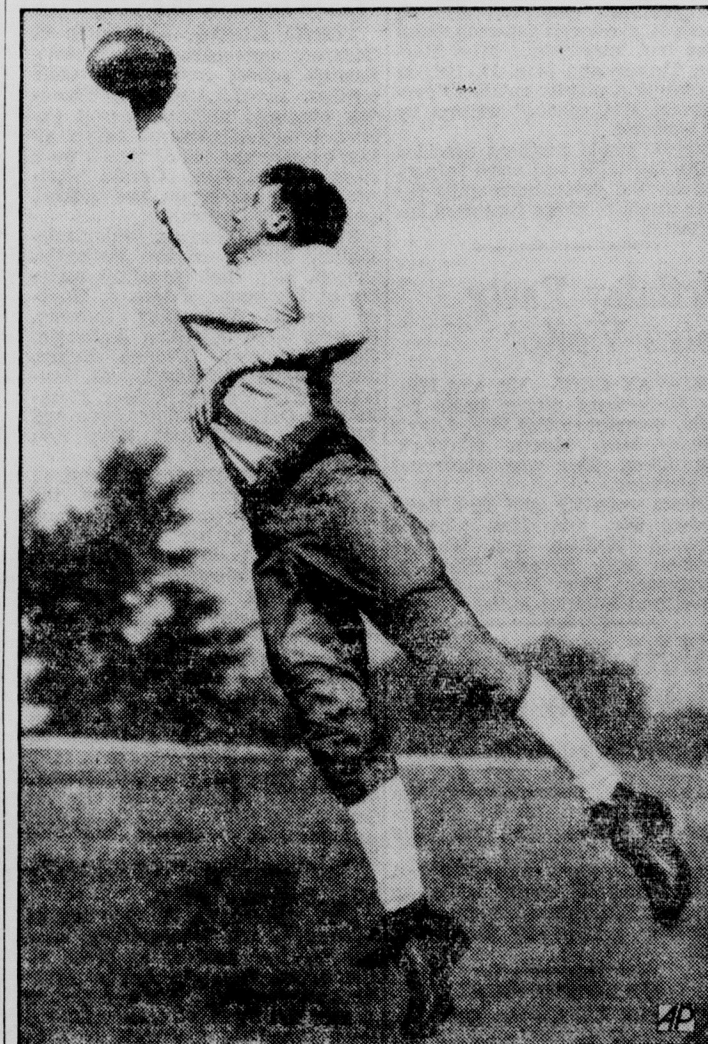

WARSAW. (American Wire)—The "King of the Dead" was in jail today. The "king" claims to have buried 68,000 people during the 30 years he was Warsaw's chief grave digger. He had his own office and retained a party of "waiting women" who went over the dead for a fee. He was arrested for "book irregularities."

QUEEN TO BE 'UNIQUE' Because her name Safinaz, meaning "pure rose," is Persian, the girl who will wed King Farouk of Egypt will be known as "Farida" according to a proclamation issued in Cairo. The name of a queen of Egypt must be Egyptian. "Farida" means "unique."

Why Gentlemen Prefer Blondes

LONDON. (American Wire)—Gentlemen prefer blondes, because blondes are prone to have goiter, which in its incipient stage produces an attractive type of woman, "clever, volatile, lively and temperamental, with large lustrous eyes." In the opinion of Sir James Crichton-Browne, famed 96-year-old British physician. He presents this idea in his new book, "From a Doctor's Notebook."

Leads Notre Dame Against Trojans

Notre Dame will be led by Capt. Joseph Zwiers, 170-pound end, against the University of Southern California in South Bend Saturday.

NEWS OF ORANGE COUNTY COMMUNITIES

APARTMENT
EXTINGUISHED

ORANGE. — Fire which broke out in a storeroom at the rear of the Ober apartments on South Lemon street Saturday morning at 7:45 o'clock caused little damage, but proved to be very stubborn to combat, Fire Chief A. L. Tomblin said.

The store and wash room is located on the second story of the rear of the court, and the fire was not discovered until police a block away noticed the smoke and turned in an alarm.

The heat had melted the lead chinking in the vent pipes and poisonous sewer gas was released, causing the firemen to don gas masks to combat the fire. It was extinguished in about one hour. Cause of the fire was undetermined.

FATHERS FETED
AT 3 BANQUETS

ORANGE. — Fathers and sons of three Orange churches were feted Friday evening in various programs, attended by several hundred persons. At the Christian church the Rev. Frank V. Stipp, Brea, was the speaker, with Cullen Gray as toastmaster. Toasts were given to the dads by Sterling Ditchey, Ward Atherton and Eldon Winters.

At the Methodist church Howard Davis was program chairman, Walt Weimer song leader, and M. M. Fishback, toastmaster. All fathers and sons adjourned to the Y. M. C. A. for games, following the dinner. Tickets to the local theater were presented to the dinner committee, waiters and waitresses by George Pantegies.

The Presbyterian gathering was entertained by the Rev. Rev. Lawhead, Ontario, who performed sleight-of-hand stunts. The Rev. Loren Hanna, the church's own missionary, home on furlough from Lampang, Siam, spoke briefly. George Stoner and his son, John, spoke of their recent trip across the United States. Henry Walsworth was in charge of arrangements, and Lawrence Nichols was toastmaster.

A "flying squadron" from the Y. M. C. A. made up of a quartet from Chapman college, gave a 15-minute program at each church.

HOME WORKER
CLASS MEETS

MIDWAY CITY. — The Home demonstration class met at the clubhouse Thursday morning with Miss Frances Liles, instructor. The group on meat cookery. Mrs. B. L. Kirkham was leader of the project and Mrs. Emmett Holly assisted.

Luncheon was served at noon to Mrs. William Appling, Mrs. W. C. Wilson, Mrs. J. J. Houlihan, Mrs. Robert Lowery, Mrs. C. A. Whitte, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Ray Sues, Mrs. Wade Enoch, Mrs. Clifford Jones, Mrs. Ed L. Hensley, Mrs. Anne Van Steenberg and Mrs. Russell I. Johnson.

Mrs. Wilson was named president of the class to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Johnson. Yeast breads will be discussed at the meeting slated for Dec. 16 and Mrs. Houlihan and Mrs. Whitte will assist Miss Liles.

Two Groups in Talbert Meeting

TALBERT. — Mrs. Nay Clayton, president of the Pauline P. T. A. and secretary of the Greenville-Talbert Woman's Missionary society, entertained both groups at a joint meeting at her home Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Anna Helm lead the devotional service and others taking part in the afternoon program included Mrs. David Jansma, Mrs. Anna Kuffel, Mrs. Martha Cole, Leora Blakey and Mrs. M. V. Knott, president of the missionary society.

A complimentary shower honoring Mrs. Harry Dady and presentation of a gift to Mrs. Jansma, retiring secretary of the P. T. A., were features of the occasion.

Base of Dam Nears Completion

Part of a harness for a mighty river is shown here with the near completion of the base of Grand Coulee dam. Here is the upstream face of the east section with trashrack structures for lower tiers of outlet works under construction. A sheer wall rises approximately 170 feet above the lowest point of bedrock. Completed, the vast bulwark of concrete and steel will back up the Columbia river for 150 miles.

SCHOOL PLANS
'ROUND-UP'

PLACENTIA. — Including plans for its first dance, the annual round-up and homecoming for the Valencia High school student body will be held Wednesday on the school campus.

Denied the privilege of school dances until the high school Parent-Teacher association went before the board of trustees and offered to sponsor all dances, the Valencia students have spent the last week in preparation for the affair.

A short schedule will be held the day of the round-up, and at 2:30 o'clock football, basketball and volleyball games between students and alumni will be held. At 5:30, a barbecued dinner is to be served and at 6:30 the dance will begin.

Each class is to be responsible for one section of the day's program. Games will be sponsored by the freshmen, the dinner by the sophomores, and a committee from the junior class is working with the Parent-Teacher association on the dance, the decorations for which will be made by the seniors.

Japanese Adopt
'Bar' and 'Jazz'
As New Words

TOKYO. (AP) — With the approach of the Olympic games in Tokyo in 1940, learning English has become a popular craze among the Japanese.

This has resulted in the adoption into the vernacular language of more and more expressive phrases from the United States and England. Some business men in the larger cities are converting Japanese signs into English to catch the eye of American and British visitors.

A tendency to insert English words into conversation or written Japanese began 30 years ago when it was considered fashionable to speak English. Today it is regarded as not merely fashionable but indispensable. The study of English is compulsory in all schools and universities.

Among the commoner English words appropriated by the Japanese are: radio, taxi, camera, bar, factory, etc. They have become so well established that they are now regarded as newly-coined Japanese words.

TOWNSEND
NEWS, VIEWS

By WALTER R. KOBB

Rev. Herbert Hargraves, Los Angeles Townsend speaker for Santa Ana club No. 10 last Friday evening when a celebration meeting was held in Townsend hall in recognition of its opening night in its new meeting place was called to order by R. E. Marks, president who introduced Rev. Hargraves to the audience of 200 or more Townsdenites present.

The speaker began by pointing out that the Townsend plan was something out of the ordinary in that it originated with a man of the common people. He said the common folks of this age were bored in their attitude toward the loss of homes and other people of Jesus' time in that "they heard him gladly." Anyone who has attended Townsend meetings steadily knows that the rank and file of the Townsdenites are as the speaker pointed out made up of their past class which Abraham Lincoln is said to have said, "The Lord must have loved because he made so many of them."

Rev. Hargraves described the present depression and its long continuance and laid the blame for the loss of homes and other property on the part of the people to the money lenders of the nation who had purposely extended credit in voluminous quantity previous to 1929 only to later contract credit resulting in billions of dollars of loss to the American people. Sarcastically he referred to the suggestion being offered by this same group that they would bring the country out of the doldrums if financial policies were allowed to be dictated by them.

He was emphatic in his statements that there was only one permanent solution for the problem of unemployment in America and that was to place in circulation a proper volume of money by the scientific method advocated by the Townsend plan. He said would correct the fundamental cause for present national problems almost overnight. He said cycles of depression and prosperity are created by these money lenders whenever it best suits their purposes without regard to the economic havoc it creates among the people.

The $200 per month spending power of the elderly when vested with Townsend annuities he said would bring such prosperity to America as had never before been experienced and that through such monetary practices there would be permanence to such good times. He prophesied that business would eventually as a class come to understand the Townsend principles and that business men would then be the weight of the world's economic back of the plan and that then it would be incorporated in the laws of the nation with consequent benefit to all the nation's citizens.

Mrs. Bessie D. Rible, Los Angeles Townsend speaker will address Santa Ana club No. 2 at its meeting being held at 7:30 this evening in Townsend hall at 509 West Fourth street. This lady has

DR. JONES IN SCHOOL TALK

PLACENTIA. — Speaking before a group of high school and junior high school students in the new Bradford auditorium, Dr. Edward B. Jones Friday afternoon stated that no individual need be a square peg in a round hole or a round peg in a square hole. Each individual has in him the material to suit him to but one profession, he explained.

Acting as chairman for the assembly, J. B. Crossley, principal of Valencia High school, introduced School Trustee E. J. Power, who turned introduced C. Sharpe Minor. Having introduced several European crowned heads, Mr. Minor proved himself an excellent musician by holding the large group of students speechless for several minutes with his piano selections.

CHAPTER XXXI
AN IRON ladder led down to the engine room. A blast of hot air struck Joan in the face as she started to descend. The stink of burning oil and the almost sweetish odor of escaping steam were intermingled with the stench of sweating bodies. Joan recoiled from the noxious blast, then gritted her teeth and picked her way downward, holding the ice helmet in one hand.

Sherman Garrison was crouched on the bottom step of the ladder. He stood in a group against the aft bulkhead was the engine-room crew, reinforced by mutinous members of the deck force, all cowed by the pistol Garrison was holding. Joan stayed a few steps above the determined old man, and surveyed the scene. Oil-stained light globes were strung overhead, casting off a dingy yellow glow. Modestly burning boilers were at Joan's right, and bulging cylinders of welded iron plates, almost obscured by a maze of valves and pipes leading in every direction. The mechanical steering apparatus was next, men the huge engine driving the propeller shaft. The men were huddled near the slowly revolving cylinder of steel without which the yacht would have been utterly helpless.

ALL this, Joan's frightened eyes took in at a single glance. Then her gaze was fixed on the surly countenances of the men as Garrison spoke to them.

"Mutineers, eh?" His voice was harsh. "A fine lot of duck-pond sailors! Stand back!" He brandished his pistol as one of the oil-covered something and started forward. "Stand back or I'll fire!"

"He's crazy!" a man in the rear of the group shouted. "He's one against ten. We can rush him and he won't have a chance!"

A low murmur of agreement passed among the men as a slow, concerted movement forward was started.

Garrison's high-pitched gurgle of laughter was fendish. "Crazy? Maybe! But not too crazy to pull trigger on you beasts! Not too crazy to mow half a dozen of you down if you don't stand back!" His voice rose to a shrill shriek on the last two words.

The forward movement of the mutinous men was abruptly halted. The front rank pushed back uneasily before the deadly menace of the pistol.

"You're not talking so loud now," Garrison sneered. "You damned curs! You didn't know there was a man with backbone aboard. There is! And I'm still in command of my own ship. You've reduced speed without orders. One of you step out and give me full speed ahead."

ONE of the crew stepped forward in a new square-jawed man faded duntar. "We don't dare do it, sir," he protested uneasily. "She was like to tear herself to pieces when she such punishment. She can't stand the propeller kick clear of water, she dives over a wave, it's a fair way to shake out the stern bulkhead."

"That's enough!" Garrison's voice shook with rage at this openly voiced opposition from a

JOB CENSUS CHECK-UP UNDER WAY HERE

RE-ECHOES IN NEW FILING

Sensational litigation involving hundreds of thousands of dollars in suits and counter-suits re-echoed faintly in Santa Ana justice court today when I. Henry Harris, jr., Los Angeles attorney, filed suit for $375.50 against Frank C. Snyder, distributor for the La Vida Mineral Springs company.

The suit marked a new chapter in the celebrated Gillenwaters case, which was believed ended four months ago when the La Vida company was awarded a $3069.78 judgment against T. R. Gillenwaters, southern California distributor for the mineral water concern.

Today Harris, who represented Gillenwaters in the previous court actions, sought to collect money Snyder assertedly owed his client in connection with an alleged contract made last January. The attorney, to whom Gillenwaters transferred the claim, is asking $375.50, plus seven per cent interest since January and court costs.

The complicated case first entered the Orange county court when Gillenwaters filed a breach of contract suit for $105.00 against the La Vida corporation, which retaliated by charging Gillenwaters with issuing a fictitious $5000 check.

The check charge later was changed to conspiracy, and this count was dismissed following a lengthy preliminary hearing.

The company, however, was awarded a $3069.78 judgment against Gillenwaters in a cross-complaint to Gillenwaters' breach of contract suit.

Charging malicious prosecution, the Los Angeles mineral water distributor sued the company for $202,500 after the first judgment had gone against him.

Thanksgiving
Church Service
Slated

With Dr. Harold I. Rasmus, pastor of the First Methodist church, as speaker, the annual union Thanksgiving service sponsored by the Santa Ana Ministerial association will be held Thursday at 10 a. m. in United Presbyterian church, the Rev. A. E. Kelly announced today.

Dr. Rasmus' topic will be "A Misleading Heritage." The musical program will be under the direction of T. Harry Warner. The choir will sing "Thanks Be to God," by Salter; the prelude will be "Prayer," by LeMaigre, and the offertory "A Song of Thanksgiving," by Metcalf.

Store Owner Offers
$1000 Reward

Following the lead of city council, which tonight was to consider an ordinance outlawing misleading "close-out sales," The Peggy Shop, 304 West Fourth street, today offered a $1000 reward for anyone proving its current close-out sale is anything but genuine.

Manager Jack P. Schlosberg pointed out the store's lease expires on Dec. 31 of this year. All stock must be moved by that date. Exceptional mark-downs in evidence during the sale, Schlosberg said, as token of the shop's anxiety to clear out its stock before its enforced closing date.

I JUST FOUND
OUT— War Veterans
In C. C. C. Camp

Congregated in a camp 15 miles from Santa Ana are 206 middle-aged men. They spend eight hours every weekday working in the field, then gather 'round to study, play cards, listen to radios, read and have bull sessions.

They talk about almost everything in their bull sessions—everything but the World war. That's a closed issue, because they all fought in the war, and some are trying to forget it.

War took many of these veterans out of highly-paid jobs and put them in the El Toro CCC camp, where they make $30 a month and expenses. The $30 does not go far with the 100-odd veterans who are married and have families.

Ranging in age from 37 to 70, most of the El Toro CCC "boys" are there because they didn't click so well when they came back from the war. Injuries disabled some, others were hit by shell-shock, some took to drink during and after the war, and a few were uncontrollably restless when they returned from France.

Though enrollment is for a six-month period, designed primarily to rehabilitate veterans who have been worn down by the struggle of readapting themselves to the world, more than 90 per cent of the CCC veterans re-enroll when their six-month period is over.

El Toro is one of California's three veterans' CCC camps, and it's altogether different from the junior camps which have become traditional since beginning of the New Deal. Veterans aren't in camp to learn discipline—they had that while they were fighting. And they aren't being built up for the life that's before them.

For veterans, CCC means a breathing spell in their struggle for existence. Food is good, work steady and not too hard, and they get medical attention when they need it.

Most enrollees wish they could get back to steady, better-paying employment, but nearly all appreciate the life they live at El Toro. Only gloomy note in camp is the fact that their advancing age is making most veterans live in the past and look

ODD REQUEST—IN INDIANAPOLIS. — Eighteen-year-old Robert York, in court for the theft of an automobile, asked Judge Pro Tem Clyde C. Karrer to give him a life sentence.

"You might as well give me life," said York, who twice had served sentences for automobile theft. "I can't get a job, and every time I get out the police are on my trail."

The judge sentenced him to one to 10 years in the Indiana reformatory.

JEKYLL-HYDE—BALLINGER, Tex. — "I now pronounce you man and wife. Fourteen dollars and 50 cents for speeding and $2.50 for the ceremony," Justice B. W. Pilcher told Bridegroom Hassell Ratliff.

Ratliff said he had driven fast because he was late for the ceremony.

HIS NOSE KNOWS—GARNETT, Kas. — Captain Lorimer McLaughlin of the Garnett High school football team emerged from a pile-up with a broken nose.

He stayed in the game. A few minutes later he emerged from another scramble, discovered his nose had been knocked back into place.

QUIT PLEASE—CHICAGO. — Members of the Illinois Bar association were advised by Paul Farthing, blind chief justice of the Illinois supreme court, to tone down their voices and talk less.

He said a presiding judge wants to hear:

"A quiet presentation of argument without shouting that shakes the chandeliers, and avoidance of Fourth of July and Washington's birthday speeches."

A clear, concise statement of the facts."

DEER COSTS HIM DEAR—ASHLAND, Wis. — Fenders adn headlights costing what they do, I. B. Iverson is beginning to feel a bit discouraged.

Last week a deer dashed across a highway near Drummond and crashed into his car. A garage repaired a damaged headlight and fender.

A few nights later Iverson's wife drove along a forest bordered highway near Superior. A deer darted out of a thicket into the road.

The garage repaired the same headlight and fender.

VAG ARREST
OPENS L. A.
GANG PURGE

LOS ANGELES. (AP) — District Attorney Buron Fitts announced today vagrancy charges would be filed against Walter (Good Time Charlie) Friedman and Maxie Russ, first to be arrested in what the prosecutor calls a drive to purge Los Angeles of unwanted characters.

With an anti-gangster detective detail newly organized, Fitts said he was informed a real "big shot" of the New York underworld is in the city. He will be sought for questioning about the recent slaying of Hymie Miller, minor film actor and former prize fight manager.

Held on suspicion of robbery, Friedman and Russ said they "did not know what it is all about."

"There was no sense in the cops pinching me. I knew Hymie Miller only casually, having met him four or five times," Friedman declared.

Russ also admitted being acquainted with Miller, and added: "It isn't a crime to know a fight manager who has the tough luck to get bumped off."

THANKSGIVING
SERMON TOPIC

Taking as the motif for his Thanksgiving sermon the passage from Psalm 118: "I will offer to thee the sacrifice of thanksgiving, and will call upon the name of Jehovah, I will pay my vows unto Jehovah," the Rev. Walter Scott Buchanan, First Christian church, built his address around the meaning of "sacrifice" in the phrase.

"God," the Rev. Buchanan said, "is tired of lip service—he longs for a willing and sacrificial soul." The Rev. Buchanan divided his talk into reference to the particular kinds of blessings we should be thankful for. Nationally, he said, we should give thanks for our national unity, for the constitution, for a citizenship that loves freedom and peace, that our president loves peace, and for the right to worship God according to his divine law.

He included in his exhortation the family blessing, the blessing of children, personal blessings, physical blessing, temporal blessings, and spiritual blessings.

He ended his sermon with the advice: "Be filled with the spirit; speaking one to another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, and making melody with our heart to the lord."

TWO KILLED IN AIR CRASH

RIVERSIDE. (AP) — An inquest was ordered today into the crash of a small plane in an alfalfa field near here, in which two youths were killed.

The craft went into a side slip at an altitude of about 300 feet while the men were flying over the Southern California Junior college. It scraped a silo, struck high tension wires and a barn, then plummeted into the field.

The victims were the pilot, Francis Scuka, 19, of 1825 East 62nd street, Los Angeles and Aubrey Wyatt, 20, 103 South Sierra Madre boulevard, Pasadena.

Policeman Kills
Theft Suspect

SAN GABRIEL. (AP) — Police Officer Fred Raessler shot to death an unidentified man early today when he reported, the suspect knocked him down and fled from a parking lot.

The officer, on the lookout for automobile thieves, left his radio car to question the man. The only reply was a blow on the jaw. The officer called a warning to halt, then fired. The bullet struck the man in the back. He carried no identifying papers.

75,000 Pupils Put In Test Tube In
New York Educational Experiment

By LYDIA GRAY SHAW
AP Feature Service Writer
NEW YORK. — Seventy-five thousand New York City school children are playing guinea-pigs for the biggest educational experiment in the United States—and liking it.

In 67 schools, nearly 10 per cent of the entire school system, more children than the totaled combined populations of the New York and New Jersey state capitals are partaking of a new curriculum. Called an "activity program," it actually is a super-combination of progressive and conservative methods.

Dr. John J. Loftus, associate superintendent, who oversees the program, is forever on a tour of the institutions involved, ranging from Hell's Kitchen to Park avenue.

TEACHING BY 'EXPERIENCES'
He says the experiment has worked well, so far, and that it is his belief that by end of the six-year period allotted for the test, every school in the city will want to join in. At present it is confined to the first six grades of the designated schools.

In the experiment, now in its second year, textbook material is taught, not only from textbooks, but from "experiences."

A visit to the local grocery store (that's an "experience") may mean a lesson in arithmetic—what food costs; geography—where food comes from; spelling—trying broccoli; with a little study in human nature thrown in for good measure.

PLENTY OF WORK
But the 75,000 children don't spend all their time touring the city. They do plenty of work in the battle of Gettysburg and other historical landmarks with past World's Fairs.

The activity program means plenty of work for the teachers. At the start of the school year, they must choose the sort of experiences they're going to teach.

If the experiences chosen for the fourth grade—there still are grades in the activity program—do not include the usual textbook material covered by fourth graders, the experiences can't be included in the curriculum.

MEETS REQUIREMENTS
Why, ask the ultra-progressives? Dr. Loftus has three answers ready.

1. New York City students have to pass Regents' examinations at the end of their elementary school work.

2. Many New York City students transfer to other schools during the elementary period, and must meet standard requirements.

3. Elementary schools lay the foundation for college preparation—and the majority of colleges as yet adhere to regular grade systems and traditional examinations, where textbook knowledge is necessary.

The activity program may be extended to all the schools at end of the six-year period—at least, through the first six grades—and eventually through junior and senior high schools.

Man Cashes One
Check Too Many

You can fool some of the people all the time, but Amelio Tirado, 22, 606 Emmett street, today may have been wondering if he'd picked the wrong people.

Tirado was in county jail facing forgery and a fictitious check charges, after assertedly attempting to pass a forged $36.47 check at the famous department store Saturday night.

Store attendants said they believed Tirado was the same person who passed a fictitious $64.86 check just a week before.

It was because they had investigated the first check that they were suspicious when the Delhi resident assertedly offered them the second check in payment for a pair of $5 shoes.

They made the change, then held him until officers arrived. Tirado declared he was cashing the checks for a friend and did not know they were forged.

DRUNK COSTS $200
A $200 fine on a drunk driving charge against Adolph Didier, 628 Garfield street, highlighted Saturday's Santa Ana police court session. Speeding fines levied by Judge J. G. Mitchell: Floyd W. HUNGER HOBBLERS COPS
Greasy-Fingered Thief Gone

Newport Beach police department's new fingerprint squad worked on its first case Saturday afternoon, and discovered that burglars who eat meals in houses sometimes have greasy fingers, which makes for poor detective work.

Police recalled the old adage about the eyes sometimes being larger than the stomach when they investigated entry of the home of Mrs. W. A. Johnston, 710 Ocean boulevard, Corona Del Mar. The burglar had boiled 12 eggs, but could get away with only five of them. He also cooked rice, beans and corn, and brewed a pot of cocoa.

The cooking apparently smudged the burglar's fingers with grease, Officer Jack Summers reported, because fingerprints were too poor to use in detective work.

The hungry thief, who entered by breaking a rear window on the home, forgot his tooth brush and tooth paste, but carried away a radio, police said. The burglary occurred some time between the 17th and 20th of November.

FUTURE NEWS
HOUNDS MEET

Headed by Vesta Kay Nickerson, instructor, 13 members of the Santa Ana High school journalism class attended the annual convention of the Southern California High School Press association Saturday at Beverly Hills High school.

Santa Monica was chosen "president" of the association for the ensuing year, with Chaffey as "vice president" and Riverside as "secretary-treasurer."

"Clinics" in various phases of journalistic work, conducted by prominent Los Angeles newsmen, occupied most of the convention session. Entertainment featuring two movies, Jackie Cooper as honorary host, and a tea dance concluded the convention.

Students attending from Santa Ana were Morris Cohen, Dortha Eddy, Eileen Gowdy, Mary Maroney, Gladys Montgomery, Jane Noble, Marjorie Nunan, Margaret Schmitt, Robert Scott, Dorothy Sheahan, Jimmy Tucker, Ben Stefins and Jen Genehardt.

Rites Today for Film Head's Wife

BEVERLY HILLS. (AP) — Clark Gable and Spencer Tracy will act as pallbearers today at rites in the Church of the Good Shepherd for Mrs. Edward J. Mannix, wife of the general manager of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio.

The Rev. M. J. Mullens will celebrate requiem mass at 8 a. m. The body will be sent to Somerville, Mass., for final Catholic services Friday in St. Catherine's church, followed by interment at Hollywood, a Boston suburb.

Mrs. Mannix, 37, noted film colony hostess, was crushed to death Saturday in an automobile accident near Palm Springs. The driver, Al Wertheimer, was critically injured, but his condition had improved somewhat today. He operates a desert night club.

Santa Ana postal carriers are today engaged in checking the unemployment census cards turned in here against WPA cards preparatory to sending the former into the postoffice department at Washington, D. C., tomorrow.

"We must have an unemployment census card for each WPA card," assistant Postmaster Flake Smith stated today, "as a means of checking one against the other." He added that persons on the WPA who have failed to turn in an unemployment card will be contacted personally by the postmen and asked to make a report.

The hundreds of unemployment census cards which have come into the local office have been filled out correctly for the most part. All cards with inaccurate answers have been corrected by interviews during the past week conducted by the postmen.

It appeared today that Santa Ana would not be chosen as one of the communities in which the government will conduct a house-to-house canvass in an effort to find what percentage of errors there are in the cards. Postmaster Harwood stated communities to be used in this re-check would be notified not later than today and that the local office had received no word up until 10 o'clock this morning.

METHODISTS
VISIT CCC

A mission for El Toro? Perhaps not, but members of the Santa Ana Methodist Home Missionary society found out all about the camp yesterday during an inspection tour of the El Toro CCC camp, just the same.

The field trip was arranged through the Santa Ana soil conservation service office, and was headed by W. M. Corey, assistant farm adviser, and John J. Lillard and Lee Hunt of the service offices.

There were 10 women in the group making the trip, lead by Mrs. H. U. Duthrie, president. Basin listing, terracing and tree planting were among the projects studied. The camp proper was inspected under guidance of Camp Surgeon Bernard L. Levine and C. W. Thomas, camp engineer.

Zerman Home Setting Of Luncheon

Rooms filled with golden chrysanthemums, coteoneasters and other flaming fall flowers greeted the eyes of guests of Mrs. Archibald N. Zerman Saturday afternoon when she entertained at one of the charming parties that characterize her hospitality.

Many of the beautiful blossoms were sent her by Miss Lillie Confer, and others came from the gardens of her own home, 505 South Sycamore street. Her luncheon tables were centered with bubble bowls containing gold and silver fish and a solitary colorful blossoms.

Mrs. Zerman was assisted by Mrs. Mark Lacy, Mrs. Edith Snow, Mrs. E. F. Museum, Mrs. Cotton Mather and Mrs. Archeline Winter in serving, and late in the afternoon she awarded high score prizes of lovely silver, gold and blue mirror globe bowls to Mrs. Mather, Dr. Mary E. Wright and Mrs. Marguerite Borgmeyer.

Guests at the delightful affair included Mrs. David Ball, Mrs. C. P. Boyer, Mrs. Adam Zaiser, Mrs. Sam Nau, Mrs. Marguerite Borgmeyer, Mrs. G. P. Campbell, Mrs. A. J. Cruickshank, Mrs. C. V. Davis, Mrs. H. T. Duckett, Mrs. Sara J. Haddon, Mrs. Mark Lacy, Mrs. J. E. Liebig, Mrs. Cotton Mather, Mrs. E. F. Museum, Mrs. Clarice Mitchell, Mrs. Walter Prince, Mrs. W. D. Ranney.

Mrs. Maggie Mae Reed, Mrs. Anna M. Richards, Mrs. E. A. B. Smith, Mrs. Milo Tedstrom, Mrs. Walter Vandermaast, Mrs. Theo Winkler, Mrs. Clyde Walker, Mrs. Rowland P. Yeagle, Mrs. J. J. Zeilman, Mrs. John Wehrly, Mrs. J. C. Horton, Mrs. A. Haas, Mrs. J. S. Smart, Mrs. Edith Snow and Dr. Mary E. Wright.

LOCAL WOMAN NAMED ALUMNI OFFICIAL

Miss B. Pearl Nicholson was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the Southern California Alumni of Colorado State College of Education (formerly Colorado Teachers college) Saturday evening when the group of members and friends met in the women's University club in Los Angeles.

Fifty loyal graduates were seated at the banquet table when Miss Eula Smith had arranged attractive bouquets of lavender asters and yellow chrysanthemums in the college colors. Lighted tapers carried out the motif.

Mrs. Lorena Vanderlip Kellier of Los Angeles, president of the group, introduced former faculty members and others who were connected with the college administration. These included Mrs. D. D. Hugh of Hollywood, Mrs. James Hays of Pasadena, Cree T. Nork of Santa Monica, Mrs. E. J. Moseley Strenberg of Los Angeles.

Dr. John Brown Mason, member of the Santa Ana Junior college faculty, gave the address of the evening, using as his subject, "The Challenge of Democracy." Miss Adeline Hunt, Pasadena, delighted the group with two vocal numbers, accompanied by Mrs. Frances Hunt Beeson of Santa Ana.

Other officers elected include N. O. Horning of Huntington Park, president; Dr. Madeline Venerka of Los Angeles, vice president; in addition to Miss Nicholson.

Those attending the dinner from Orange county were Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Johnston of Fullerton, Mrs. W. A. Patterson, Miss Ethel D. Mack, Mrs. Frances Hunt Beeson and daughter, Margaret, Dr. and Mrs. John Brown Mason, Mrs. Jean Gross and Miss Nicholson.

DINNER FETES ALAN REVILL
On Saturday evening Mrs. Alan A. Revill honored her husband with a birthday dinner party, delayed from its original date because of illness.

Thanksgiving decorations and motif characterized the affair, which was followed by bridge at which Mrs. Loyal King was high scorer.

Present for the intimate little affair were Col. and Mrs. M. B. Wellington, D. K. Hammond, Mrs. L. S. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Loyal King, and the Revills.

DOZEN ENJOY BRIDGE PARTY
Miss Mayme Bigelow entertained at a pleasant little party Friday evening, serving a late dessert course. Prizes fell to Miss Henrietta Bohling and H. G. Bolton.

Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. William De Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. Niedergall, Mrs. Sue Bryant, Mrs. Anna Daning, Miss Henrietta Bohling, P. P. Brightwell, A. Winland, H. G. Bolton and Oscar Schriver.

Review of "NO HEARTS TO BREAK" by Susan Ertz (Courtesy Starline Gift Shop, 506 North Main)

By MOLLY HARVEY

According to Susan Ertz, Walter Warfield was not the first American woman whose ambition to sit on a European throne was thwarted. A Baltimore woman of long ago set her cap for Jerome, the youngest brother of Napoleon, and though she too succeeded in marrying the gentleman she was not so fortunate to get even the title of duchess.

For Napoleon, man of the people though he was, insisted on marrying the younger members of his family to royalty, and refused to recognize the legitimacy of Elizabeth Patterson or her son, optimistically named Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte. As for Jerome himself, one of the first "yes men," his brother's offer of a fat German princess and the throne of Westphalia was inducement enough for deserting his American wife.

As a child, Elizabeth Patterson had been unhappy and discontented with what she considered the provincial life of Baltimore. She yearned to move in the glittering superficial courts of Europe. And when she learned that Jerome Bonaparte was to visit Baltimore, she felt her destiny had arrived. And oh, you match-making mothers of eligible daughters take heed of the strategy Elizabeth employed. No enemy was ever besieged, weakened and captured with such deft tactics. She had planned to marry, but felt that no one could offer her enough to recompense the loss of that name.

She plied between Europe and America establishing contacts which she hoped would help her son attain the heights which had been denied to her. To her disappointment little Bo loved the outdoors life and simple ways of his American grandfather. He even married an everyday Baltimore girl and settled down in business. Then his son gave Elizabeth a vision to foster, and at the time of the second empire she spent enormous sums trying to prove the

Rites Occur In Baptist Church

With 200 friends witnessing impressive rites performed by the Rev. Harry Evan Owings, Miss Virginia Lee Downing and Charles Boyd Carnett were married Saturday evening at a formal ceremony in the First Baptist church here.

Masses of golden and white chrysanthemums and candelabra which rose golden tapers made a beautiful setting for the nuptials, for which the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Downing of South Birch street, wore a picture frock of white satin with long train, veil of lace and halo of orange blossoms. She was attended by four close friends, all attired in exquisite pastel-hued frocks.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Coffman, in peach brocade chiton, was maid of honor, and Mrs. M. Dubin of Los Angeles served as matron of honor in lovely blue lace. The bridesmaids, Miss Lenore Marchant and Miss Dorothy Sullivan wore pale green tulle, and each carried a dainty colonial bouquet. Little Pauline Cave and Dorothy Parker frocked in lovely yellow and white gowns, lighted the tapers in the beautifully decorated church.

Edward Carnett attended his brother as best man, and delightful music was provided by Miss Mildred Marchant and Miss Beulah Parker. The bride was given in marriage by her father, and ushers were Royce Edson, Harold Richards, Edward Dubin, and Alfred Dubin.

Immediately after the ceremony the Downings entertained in their home at a reception, after which the young couple left for Tulsa, Okla., to spend Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Carnett of that city. Later they will make their home here.

GARDEN GROVE GIRL WEDS IN LOS ANGELES

An impressive ceremony performed yesterday at noon at St. Anthony's Catholic church in Los Angeles united Miss Anna Marie Page and Peter Mikov in marriage, with 300 people in attendance.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter K. Page, is a Garden Grove girl, having attended high school there, Santa Ana Junior college, and been graduated from St. Columba's school, Los Angeles. The groom, son of Mrs. Dora Mikov of Zagreb, Yugoslavia, was educated in Pennsylvania.

The wedding was a ceremonious affair, with the church and altar beautifully decorated with white chrysanthemums and blue delphinium. Miss Page's wedding gown was of white satin, made princess style with a long train and a long lace veil caught with a seed pearl halo. Her arm bouquet was of white roses, white lilies, gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Miss Nina Page was maid of honor for her sister, wearing a frock of aqua blue moire, with gold beaded Juliet cap and gold accessories. Miss Mary Ann Page, another sister, was flower girl, and wore a similarly picturesque frock of apricot moire with colonial bouquet.

Best man was Joseph Rasich of Los Angeles, and Father S. Y. Y. officiated. Ushers were Anthony Segich of Long Beach and Michael Page of Los Angeles.

An intimate wedding breakfast followed the ceremony, with the best man as host. In the evening a wedding dinner was served to guests at the Garden Grove Women's clubhouse, followed by a formal dance.

EXERCISE WILL ALLEVIATE INDIGESTION

By BETTY CLARKE

Indigestion is a complaint of three out of five American business women.

Miss Catherine Van Rensselaer, director of physical education at the American Woman's association in New York, who has to cope with hundreds of cases of it, says most indigestion is caused by carelessness.

It can be cured by correcting digestive and elimination habits and doing a certain amount of exercise. "Commuter's breakfast is often the cause of the trouble," Miss Van Rensselaer says. "Breakfast should take at least twenty minutes. And eating or not—I think it should be ample."

"Lunch should be light and eaten slowly. Dinner should be the most leisurely meal of all."

Miss Van Rensselaer suggests these exercises to strengthen the muscles that control digestion and elimination: One is "trunk circling." Put your hands on your hips. Describe a half circle with the trunk, leaning as far as possible in each direction. Five times from right to left and five times from left to right will be enough.

Another is "knee circling." Lie on your back. Bring both knees up from the right and around to the left, letting the legs extend out and down as you complete the circle.

The third involves relaxing from the waist. Let the upper half of your body swing toward the floor thoroughly relaxed. Let your fingertips touch your toes—one, two, three, four times—and then return to a standing position.

AID TO MEET
Advancing their meeting date by one day because of the holiday, members of the General Aid society of the First Presbyterian church will meet Tuesday, Nov. 23, at 2 p. m., in the church annex. There will be a board meeting at 1 p. m., and all are reminded of the attendance contest.

Wee Kirk Is Setting Of Wedding

Entering the Wee Kirk o' the Heather at Glendale on the arm of her brother, Eugene Dana, Miss Josephine Dana late Saturday evening became the bride of Eric Pridonoff of Los Angeles, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Pridonoff.

Of particular interest was the wedding to Santa Anans, for the bride is the daughter of Mrs. Laura Dana formerly of Perry, Iowa, and now of this city, and is a sister of Mrs. Charles Swanner, who was her matron of honor.

An exquisite coral color-scheme was carried out, with all frocks in the wedding party designed by the bride, who was graduated recently from the Otis Art school.

Her own frock of rich ivory satin, made princess style with long point lace veil, was the only one of color-contrast to the coral frocks of Mrs. Swanner, Miss Erica Dowie, Miss Avis Carlson, and little Caralee Swanner, the flower girl. The bride carried a simple prayer book, with orchid and lilies of the valley attached to its white ribbons, and her attendants' corsages were of pansies.

Edward Carnett attended his brother as best man, and delightful music was provided by Miss Mildred Marchant and Miss Beulah Parker. The bride was given in marriage by her father, and ushers were Royce Edson, Harold Richards, Edward Dubin, and Alfred Dubin.

George Pridonoff attended his brother and also played a group of violin solos before the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. I. L. Ketcham of Alhambra. Ushers were Constantine Ferech and Peter Telige. The bride was given in marriage by her mother, who joined the group at the altar, wearing a coral lace frock over coral satin. Immediate members of the family and attendants enjoyed an informal party before Mr. and Mrs. Pridonoff left for their honeymoon at which time the bride presented her bridesmaids with lovely cloisonné clips and compacts. They will make their home in Los Angeles, where he is a mechanical designer for the Superior Oil Co., and she was graduated from schools in China and the United States before attending U. C. L. A.

MELCHIOR GIVES FINE CONCERT AT CLAREMONT

The program quoted Thomas Carlyle's "There is something deep and good in melody, for body and soul strangely together."

And so it was with Lauritz Melchior's recital at Bridges Hall, Claremont, Wednesday night. If lyricism, as I like it, may be defined in performance, it was Melchior's to give.

A voice from opera in San Francisco and Los Angeles, the commanding, silver-haired Metropolitan tenor gave a gala performance from opening tone to the last note of the last encore.

Richard Trunk's "Mir traumte von einer Kuckuckin" like a delicate vine upon the lattice of accompaniment) was high point of the evening performance, the audience demanding its repetition.

I liked Grieg's "Med en Vandelille" in the first group, his "Ich liebe dich" in the second, and the three numbers sung in English were splendid technical exhibitions, yet lacked the "song-content" of the Schubert, the Strauss.

The various Wagner numbers (and in programme and encore) indicated Melchior's full command of German opera, were breathtaking for the technical skill exercised.

It was a young audience at Claremont Wednesday night, young in mind and heart to thrill to voice that is ever young and powerful.

BETTY SMEDLEY IS INCENTIVE FOR SHOWER
Although plans for her wedding to Lincoln Spaulding are as yet indefinite, Miss Betty Smedley has been incentive for a number of pleasant little parties during the winter season, since announcement of her engagement was made last summer.

Most recent was a delightful shower given over the week-end by Mrs. Fred Alandene of Los Angeles and Mrs. Harold Hager of Altadena in the home of the latter. Twenty classmates from Scripps college comprised the guest list, and each brought the bride-elect a piece of the lovely Spode wear which she has chosen for her new home. Presiding over the tea table was Mrs. Folsom, house-mother of the college.

Going to the affair from Santa Ana were Miss Smedley, Mrs. Ralph Smedley, Miss Mary Tuthill (who is to be ma' of honor), Miss Marian Brownridge, and Miss Mary Nau.

TAYLORS FETE SIXTEEN GUESTS
Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Taylor, 2410 Bond street, entertained a group of 16 guests at Daniger's last week with a dinner in the evening. Autumn fruits, nuts, and leaves provided a clever Thanksgiving motif for the table.

Later in the evening, the group adjourned to the Taylor home, where they spent the evening in chatting and informal party games. The guests exchanged mystery and travel stories, then each person told why he came to California.

Mary Stoddard

Young Man Asks Reason Why His Father Wants Him Not to Visit Girl Often

No matter how rigid the rules we set up, sooner or later a letter comes along that demands a little different answer. Rather than go by our rules and risk advising a person wrong, I believe it advisable to make exceptions wherever necessary. Such is the case of a letter we received today. Dear Miss Stoddard: I am a young fellow, lacking a month or so being 18 years old. I met a girl about seven months ago, whom I like very much. In fact, I know this will sound silly to you, but I love her and she loves me. But all this perhaps can be termed as "beating around the bush." To get to the point, my father has some well-formed old-fashioned ideas. I'm inclined to think that some old-fashioned ideas are all right, but my father, in my opinion, goes to extremes.

For example, I ask permission to go anywhere every time I start to go. I'll admit that practically the only place I go is to see this young lady, but every time I have to ask permission to go, and every time there is an argument between my dad and me. He thinks I go to her too often. Perhaps, so, but it is the only place I go, so why wouldn't I go a little more often?

Here's the main reason for this letter. My lady friend's folks and she are going away Thanksgiving day and asking to stay over the week-end. They are going to the home of their married daughter, and I have been invited to take the trip also. I told my father of the plans, and he very emphatically said no. I asked him why, and he said that it wouldn't look nice.

Miss Stoddard, pretend you were in my father's place. I wish you would write in your column as quickly as possible what you would do in regard to letting your son take the above mentioned trip. This is only one of a million of my problems, but that will be all for the present.

SON OF OLD-FASHIONED FATHER.

I'm afraid that my first interest in my son's affairs would be as to what kind of people the girl and her parents are. And right after that, I'd start wondering if my son were making a nuisance of himself by hanging around the house.

Now say that's the only place you go? Why don't you make friends with boys of your own age and accompany them a little bit. And do you take your little friend places occasionally instead of just sitting around the house? You didn't say how often you went to her, but I'm sure that once or twice a week should be perfectly permissible.

I'm glad to hear that you do ask your father for permission. He feels responsible for you and likes to know where you are. On the other hand, if the girl's parents do like you and want you to accompany them, I see no reason why you should not. At your age, you surely know how to be a gentleman at all times, and apparently you will be properly chaperoned.

Talk the matter over calmly with your father and explain to him why you want to go. And it might help to have him talk to her father over the telephone about the trip. But, in the meantime, be very sure that's real love you have, because there are a great many years ahead of you yet before you'll even finish your education, let alone be earning a living.

MRS. BOWERS IS HOSTESS AT DINNER
Thanksgiving fruits and colorful decorations were used Sunday evening when Mrs. Elmer Bowers entertained at a little dinner party in her home, 1401 North Main street.

Her guests included Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Norton, Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Norton, Miss Martha Spengler of Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Norton and Marcia Lee, Miss Dorothy Tedford, Miss Corinne Clements, Mr. and Mrs. Arold Norton and Peter, and Miles Norton.

The latter, a student at U. S. C., was to leave this evening for South Bend, Ind., where the S. C. football team will play Notre Dame Saturday.

Combining the pretty compliment of a bridal shower for Miss Norma Wilson with a reunion of former junior college friends, many of them fellow members of La Meninas, Miss Agnes McKinstry was hostess at a Saturday afternoon in her home on Hickory street.

Miscellaneous gifts for the honoree were heaped upon a table over which hung suspended a huge wedding ring framing a bride and groom. Pink and white flowers were everywhere, and were later used to center refreshment tables. Miniature brides and grooms marked each place.

Games during the afternoon followed a bridal motif, with prizes going to Mrs. Norbert Megowan (Ruth Gardner), Miss Grace Wurster, Mrs. McKinsty was assisted at serving by her mother, Mrs. E. C. McKinsty, and by her sister, Mrs. Arthur Carpenter of Los Angeles.

Present were Mrs. Norbert Megowan, Mrs. William Norton, Mrs. Maurice Dunn of Los Angeles, Mrs. Clifford Hannah of Long Beach, Mrs. Dean Hyatt of Redondo, Mrs. Bruce Harding and Mrs. Russell Porter of Whittier, Mrs. Lee Hasenjaeger of Anaheim, Miss Ruth Barsegill of Laguna Beach, Mrs. Carleton Smith, Miss Grace Vester, Mrs. B. O. Wilson, Mrs. Herbert Myers, Mrs. Carpenter, Miss Wilson, Mrs. McKinsty, and the hostess.

EIGHTSOME IS ENTERTAINED
Meeting for the first time since their host and hostess returned from an eastern trip, a bridge eightosome gathered Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Norton.

In the group, which through custom has abandoned both prizes and refreshments, were Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ranney, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Zaiser and Mr. and Mrs. Norton.

Annual Dance Is Colorful Affair

Pretty fall appointments were carried out Saturday evening when the Associated Women students of Santa Ana Junior college sponsored their annual ladies' choice dance in the Huntington Beach memorial hall.

Women were the escorts of the evening, furnishing tickets, transportation, and boutonnières for their dates. Arrangements for the dance were supervised by Miss Ann Wetherell, president of the A. W. S. Other committees in charge of the event were Miss Aloen Miller and Miss Caroline Davis, punch; Miss Dorothy Jenkins, hostesses; and Miss Mary Henderson, programs.

Autumn leaves were used throughout the rooms, with corn stalks completing the motif. Masses of orange and yellow balloons were clustered above each wall light and a net full of them were released over the dancers late in the evening. Miss Audrey Sattler supervised the decorations, assisted by Miss Ruth Jump, Miss Catherine Eklund, Miss Betty West, Bill Twist and Joe Young.

Patrons and patronesses for the evening were the Messrs. and Mesdames Frank A. Henderson, John H. McCoy, Calvin C. Flint, John Tessimann, J. Russell Bruff, Ernest Crozier Phillips, L. L. Beeman, John Brown Mason, Wayne Bartholomew Eklund, Miss C. Whiting and Miss Carol Erskine. Seen dancing in attractive costumes were Miss Mercedes Kellogg in sea green chiffon over satin with silver straps; Miss Irene Krisher wearing a full black skirt topped by a silver lame jacket; Miss LaVonne Erickson in black with a black net top trimmed with sequins; Miss Audrey Sattler in black net; Miss Ruth Jump in white crepe with the blouse studded with brilliants.

Others were Miss Evelyn Witt in white crepe and lace; Miss Harriet Fowler attractive in blue chiffon studded with silver stars; Miss Catherine Eklund in black and white tulle; Miss Betty West in burnt sienna satin; Miss Luella Pierce in blue chiffon trimmed with silver; Miss Betty Bradley in black and white satin, and Miss Jo Flaherty in flowered tulle with a red velvet jacket.

Among after-the-dance parties which were enjoyed by various groups was a charming supper party given by Mr. and Mrs. Z. B. West to compliment their daughter, Miss Betty West, on her birthday anniversary.

Decorations in the West home had been carried out with fall-toned chrysanthemums. A large table was centered with autumn fruits and tiny Mexican figures.

Guests included Miss Evelyn Witt, Miss Harriet Fowler, Miss Catherine Eklund, Miss Luella Pierce, Miss Barbara Warner, Miss Betty Bradley, Miss Jo Flaherty, Miss Justine Kroll, Miss Eleanor Cogan, Miss Mildred McCullough, Miss Gloria Kirchner, Miss Jane Austen, Miss Prudence Roberts, and Miss West.

Their escorts were Wayne Tavin, Norman Mennes, Marvin Hinton, Jack Schilling, Paul Christ, Don Brase, encircled by Larry Erick, Max Galsush, Meyers Mo-Coary, Bob Paul, Paul Rooster, Ensign Jack Barlow and Fred Pinkston.

NEW AUXILIARY PRESIDENT TAKES OFFICE

With Mrs. Juanita Cozad, the new president, conducting her first session, members of the V. F. W. auxiliary gathered for their regular business meeting in the Knights of Pythias hall Friday evening.

A new member, Mrs. Beatrice L. Davis, was initiated, and Mrs. Irene Stewart, junior past president, was conducted to the president's station. Two visitors from Orange, Mrs. Olive Hadley and Mrs. Myra Grove, were entertained at the meeting.

Announcement was made of a Sunday morning breakfast for the third district V. F. W. and auxiliary, to be sponsored by the post and held in K. P. hall, Jan. 23. The auxiliary will be in charge of the affair. Following the business period, Mrs. Esther Hendrickson, Mrs. Phoebe Hyatt, Mrs. Fae Rowe, and Mrs. Jean Miller served a chili bean supper.

GIRARD COLLEGE . . .
"I enjoin and require that no ecclesiastic, mission, or minister of any sect whatsoever, shall hold or exercise any station or duty whatever in the said college; nor shall any such person ever be admitted for any purpose, or as a visitor, within the premises . . ."
In these no uncertain terms did Stephen Girard, founder of Philadelphia's famed orphanage, Girard college, emphasize his secularistic ideas in his will that endowed the institution with some $6,000,000 in 1831. Born a Frenchman, Girard went to sea as a boy. He endured much ridicule because of the loss of one eye, and early adopted a philosophy of utilitarianism. It was his love of free and unfettered thought that led him to ban ecclesiastics from Girard college, believing as he did the young minds should be sheltered from clashing doctrines and sectarian controversy. Religion, however, plays a large part today in the daily routine at Girard. Daily chapel service includes Scripture reading and prayer, with an address delivered by a staff member or visiting speaker—although never a minister.

DUMMY TO LEAD MOVIE PARADE

LOS ANGELES. (P)—They're going to lead a dummy lead Hollywood's 13th annual Santa Ana lane parade.

Along a mile of metal Christmas trees, perched on a motor-driven sleigh decorated with imitation snow, will ride Charlie McCarthy next Saturday night.

The Christmas festivities, sponsored by the local chapter of commerce and Hollywood boulevard business men, will start when McCarthy, with Ventriiloquist Edgar Bergen assisting, light a big batch of fireworks.

Passengers on the sleigh will include Bobby Breen, boy singer; Gergen and Santa Claus.

Bob Burns, of Van Buren, Ark., will drive a stagecoach with Francisco Dee, Florence George, Chicago diva, will sing Christmas carols on a sound truck.

Eugene Biscaillet, Tom Mix, Buck Jones, Lewis Stone, Leo Carrillo and Gene Autry will ride on horseback.

Have a Cold? Eat Lollypops!

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (American Wire)—Eat lollypops, children, to get over your colds. This novel advice is the suggestion of Dr. Harry Perlman, who recommends it because the candy sticks are high in caloric content and therefore nourishing food, and also make children thirsty so they drink lots of water. It might be best, though, not to tell the children the reason for the recommendation, since they would want to have colds all the time, he warns.</

Please remember that it was not so many years ago that most automobiles were bought on some such terms. Through public demand, mass production and ultra-scientific financing the autos have lowered their schedules. Don't be surprised if another five years will cut the cost and down payment of sky autos in half.
